Wheeler Reports On War Zone Tour; Eyes Laos Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, just back from a survey of Vietnam war needs, conferred for more than three hours today with President Johnson and his top advisers.

There was no immediate announcement of the outcome of the talks at a White House breakfast where Wheeler joined the President and his chief military, diplomatic and intelligence aides shortly after arriving here from Saigon.

There was no indication the Wheeler-Johnson conference would produce any immediate announcement that more fighting men will be sent to Vietnam. Johnson aides continued to insist, as recently as Tuesday night, that no formal request for reinforcements had been presented to the President.

Wheeler, on arrival back in Washington just before dawn, appeared to credit the Communists with some gains as a result of their recent cities offensive.

"I think the initiative (in the war) lies on both sides," the general said in response to a question. He said there are certain areas where the Viet Cong Pathet Lao elements attacked a police station north of the royal capital of Luang Prabang. Two policemen were reported killed and the chief of the district of Pakso 25 miles north of Luang Prabang was reported wounded during the action.

Esherick Ruling Seen In 2 Weeks

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Common Pleas Judge John F. Clair Jr. is expected to rule in about two weeks on a motion for a new trial for 16-year-old Fred M. Esherick Jr., who was convicted of first-degree murder.

Testifying at a hearing on the motion Tuesday, Mrs. Claudia Arendt, of Painesville, denied that she discussed or commented on the Esherick case prior to the youth's trial.

Mrs. Arendt was a member of the jury that convicted young Esherick Dec. 6 in the bayonet-killing of his father, Fred Sr., at their home here last May 5.

Two Painesville sisters testified last week that Mrs. Arendt had said last May that she thought the youth was guilty and should be punished.

Failure of a recommendation of mercy from the jury meant the death penalty for Esherick, who has been sentenced to die in the electric chair at Ohio Penitentiary May 15.

Judge Clair Tuesday gave the defense and the prosecution two weeks to file further written arguments on the new trial and said he would rule after that.

The defense claims Mrs. Arendt prejudiced herself by commenting on the case before she was chosen on the jury. A previous motion for a new trial was denied.

The second grant, $31,753, was awarded to the Supporting Council of Preventive Effort, Dayton, to provide for a 7½ month child development day care center in Troy. The Troy Episcopal Church is the delegate agency of the project.

The episode, covering 15 hours, reached its climax off the coast of Virginia Tuesday afternoon. This was the sequence of events as related by the Coast Guard.

At 2 a.m. Tuesday the Cuban ship radioed that the crew sought political asylum. She was instructed to head for Hampton Roads and the cutter Point Brown was dispatched to meet her with Master Boatswain's Mate P. W. Caviness, 33, of Silver City, N.C., in command.

Caviness said he watched the ship anchor 10 miles east-northeast of Cape Henry Tuesday morning. He said he had instructions not to board the vessel but to try to get it into inland waters—inside the U.S. territorial limit.

A Coast Guard vessel stood by but did not interfere because the incident occurred well beyond the 3-mile limit. The ship's captain radioed later that "The trouble is settled now. We go back to Cuba."

Paratroopers Beef Up U.S. Viet Forces

Scattered Action Across Vietnam Costly to Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Four thousand U.S. paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Division have arrived in Vietnam to bolster allied defenses against new Communist attacks and pressure, the American Command announced today.

The new arrivals, the 82nd's 3rd Brigade, are part of the 10,500 men President Johnson ordered from the United States two weeks ago in response to Gen. William C. Westmoreland's urgent request because of North Vietnamese pressure on Khe Sanh and the prospect of new Communist attacks on South Vietnam's cities and towns.

Forty rounds of 122mm rockets streaked into the big allied base at Bien Hoa, 15 miles north of Saigon, before dawn. More Communist shells hit the headquarters of a U.S. Special Forces unit, and 25 rounds of 82mm mortars hit a South Vietnamese army unit.

The U.S. Command said casualties and damages were light, but AP photographer Al Chang, after a tour of the base, reported

Rights Bill Is Changed; May Pass

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil rights bill born of compromise appears destined for Senate passage after a six-week struggle.

The new bill could be presented today if proponents of civil rights legislation agree on the details before the Senate opens for business.

The next move would be a renewed attempt to choke off a debate carried on by Southern and conservative Republican opponents since Congress reconvened Jan. 15.

No final vote on the bill itself is expected before next week at the earliest.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who twice has voted against ending the debate, told newsmen Tuesday "a very substantial measure of agreement" had been reached on the bill.

Dirksen said the compromise measure's open-housing provision "will be stronger than the one I helped kill two years ago."

The compromise open-housing proposal would take effect in three stages, applying immediately to housing financed with federal aid and by the end of the year to big apartments and housing developments.

The third stage, applying in a limited degree to sale or rental of single-family dwellings, reportedly would take effect next year.

steps to see that this Cuban vessel did not run over this boat a third time. . . my guns were uncovered."

Coast Guard sources said the armament of the Point Brown included a .50-caliber machine gun and an .81mm mortar. Crewmen leaving the craft upon its return to port carried M1 rifles and submachine guns.

Lt. Cmdr. R. H. Elkins, 43, of North Cape May, N.J., was aboard the Coast Guard tug Chock which arrived later and pulled alongside the 26 de Julio.

Elkins talked through an interpreter to the master of the Cuban vessel, Ricardo Puri, whom he described as "anxious to apologize and explain what happened."

Elkins, executive officer of Group Norfolk, said Puri told him four men, using a gun, seized the ship at 10 p.m. Monday, locking 17 other persons aboard, including the master, in the brig.

Puri said the four took $3,500 in Canadian currency, drugs and other goods, and planned to "escape to the United States."

What happened to the fourth man was not determined. Coast Guard sources speculated that he backed out at the last moment and released the captain and crew after his three companions took to the lifeboat.

Elkins said Puri told him the three defectors were back aboard the 26 de Julio, wet and cold but otherwise in good shape. However, Elkins said he did not see them.

The Coast Guard described the 26 de Julio as a cattle boat that plies between Canada and Cuba. However, in Havana the Cuban foreign minister described it as part of the national fishing fleet.

Failure of South Vietnam Troops To Attack Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials have been sharply disappointed by South Vietnam's failure to launch fast follow-up attacks on Communist forces weakened by severe losses during their offensive against South Vietnamese cities.

The Viet Cong, according to all the information available here, is now working through much of the countryside of South Vietnam to press new recruits into service and to train and reorganize units for further offensive operations. For the

Ohio Flight Instructor Got Start in Aviation in 1911

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three of the surviving civilian flight instructors of World War I received citations Tuesday from the National Aeronautic Association for gallant performance on behalf of their country.

They were William Diehl, 76, North Bergen, N. J., Ernest Hall, Warren, Ohio, and Allen P. Bourdon, Smyrna, Fla.

Retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Brooke Allen, executive director of the NAA, presented the certificates at a luncheon.

The men were cited for "patriotism, devotion to duty, capability as a pilot, and performance of outstanding service toward the achievement of victory."

Allen said that when the United States declared war on Germany April 6, 1917, the Army had no fighter planes in production and no combat pilots, except for the few Americans in the Lafayette Escadrille and some others flying with the allies.

Allen said about 100 civilians served the Army as flight instructors, and only a few are still living. He said the three certificate recipients were among those who were especially noteworthy in serving until the armistice.

Hall said he tells the "chicks" in Warren, Ohio, that he is 39 or 40, but he admits privately that he is past 70. He soloed in September, 1911.

Hall said he started a flying school at Exposition Park, Conneaut Lake, Pa., in 1915, and started with the Air Service at Wright Field, Ohio, in 1917, and then instructed at Call Field, Wichita Falls, Tex.

After the war Hall leased Call Field's 12 hangars and operated a flying school and

Brown Names Board Member

time being they are considered vulnerable to vigorous military action by South Vietnamese forces.

Publicly, Johnson administration authorities speak only good of the South Vietnamese allies and are usually quick to deny critical reports. In the present case, however, officials privately don't conceal their concern about the lack so far of powerful follow-up action.

The situation is acute for two reasons:

1. President Johnson will have to decide in a few days, after hearing reports from Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, whether to send another 100,000 or so American troops to South Vietnam beyond the 525,000 force level already scheduled.

The performance of South Vietnamese forces will inevitably be brought up in congressional debate for comparison with the burden of fighting to be carried by U.S. forces.

2. The conflict has entered a very critical and possibly decisive phase. The new phase opened at the end of January with coordinated Communist attacks on 100 South Vietnamese communities. The Communists have declared this is a drive to win decisive victories and it will certainly have a vital effect on the war's future course.

U.S. officials say privately they feel the responsibilities borne by American troops—the defense of Khe Sanh and key cities and military bases—should make it possible for the South Vietnamese Forces to strike back hard in the countryside.

But as the days pass, a mood of discouragement about their will to do so seems to be growing in Washington.

2 Escapees Are Captured

BELLEVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Two of three prisoners who escaped from the Ashabula, Ohio, County jail Tuesday are in police custody, charged with being fugitives from justice.

Blair Robinson, 34, of North Madison, Ohio, and Gary Tadtler, 23, of Ashabula were captured near this Central Pennsylvania community Tuesday night while driving a reported stolen car.

Both are being held in Centre County Jail pending extradition proceedings.

There was no word of the third prisoner, identified by Ohio authorities as Robert Amrose, 23, New Lyme, Ohio.

Ash Wednesday Ushers in Lent

NEW YORK (AP) — Ash Wednesday today ushered in Lent for Christians around the world.

The 40 days of prayer and meditation—with penitence and fasting for many—ends on Easter Sunday.

Ashes are being distributed today in Roman Catholic and some other churches, and special services are being held.

French Relay Information to United States

PARIS (AP) — The French government has received explicit information that an unconditional halt in American bombing of North Vietnam would be a "necessary and sufficient condition" for an opening of negotiations," a government spokesman said today.

Information Minister Georges Gorse said the French government believes that failure to open negotiations increases each day the risk of seeing the war spread to other parts of the world.

He read a prepared statement after the regular weekly Cabinet meeting with President Charles de Gaulle.

The statement said: "The declaration of U Thant according to which the unconditional cessation of American bombardments of North Vietnam would be a necessary and sufficient condition for the opening of peace negotiations corresponds to information explicitly received by the French government."

"The Cabinet considers, as does the secretary-general of the United Nations, unless such negotiations are opened, the war of destruction now being conducted in Southeast Asia will continue to spread and take on a character which threatens more every day to endanger the peace of the world."

In a statement issued in New York Saturday, Thant said "it could be reasonably assumed" that an unconditional halt in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam would be followed by "meaningful talks...perhaps within a matter of a few days."

Thant's statement was his first public declaration after a trip to New Delhi, Moscow, London and Paris where he discussed the Vietnam war. In both New Delhi and Paris Thant met North Vietnamese diplomats.

Though Gorse did not say from whom the French government received its information, it was generally assumed it came from the North Vietnamese themselves. France has a diplomatic mission in Hanoi, and North Vietnam has a delegate general, Mai Van Bo, in Paris. French-North Vietnamese contacts are regular.

Red China Hikes Trade With West

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says Red China's trade with non-Communist countries—particularly in Western Europe—increased sizeably in 1966.

Peking's exports to Western Europe rose 25 per cent from 1965 and its imports from that area were up 36 per cent, Rusk reported Tuesday.

He said its exports to all non-Communist countries were up 20.5 per cent and imports increased 14.4 per cent.

The figures came in Rusk's annual report to Congress on the Mutual Defense Assistance Control Act, which provides control over trade with nations "threatening the security of the United States."

The report also showed a substantial percentage increase in U.S. trade with European Communist countries between 1965 and 1966—from $140 million to $198 million in exports, and from $141.6 million to $182 million in imports.

Rusk reasserted the administration position on trade with Communist countries in saying "the U.S. objective is not to continue the Cold War but to end it."

India Accepts Kutch Ruling

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Parliament rejected 203-70 today a no-confidence motion based on India's decision to accept an international court ruling in the dispute with Pakistan over the Rann of Kutch.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi told Parliament: "I cannot say I am satisfied with the award. The fact we got only 90 per cent should not color our judgment as to where our duties lie."

Pakistan, which had claimed 3,500 square miles of the desolate area on the Arabian Sea, was awarded 300 square miles. Both nations believe oil may be found in the wasteland.

Mrs. Gandhi said India is honor-bound to accept the award and she expressed hope "this will close an unfortunate chapter in the conflict between India and Pakistan."

Saxbe Declines April Debate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, a Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate nomination, has declined an invitation to participate in a debate April 20 at the Cleveland City Club. His two opponents, Albert E. Payne of Springfield and William L. White of Mount Vernon, accepted the offer.

The Democratic candidates for the Senate race have been invited to debate May 4. John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati has accepted, but club officials say they have not heard from Sen. Frank J. Lausche.

Red Ships Harass Navy Off Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet ships have reportedly harassed U.S. Navy vessels about a dozen times in the waters off Korea since the Communist North Korean seizure of the intelligence ship Pueblo.

Both the U.S. and Soviet Union sent sizeable naval forces into the Sea of Japan crisis area in the wake of the Pueblo incident.

Both countries have scaled down their naval forces in the waters off Korea recently. At one point, the Soviets had some 14 warships, including two cruisers, operating in the same general area where the U.S. fleet had been built up.

This Soviet naval presence has now been reduced to about five or six destroyers and a few intelligence vessels. The rest reportedly have moved back toward Vladivostok, the main Soviet naval base in the Far East.

The U.S. Navy has meanwhile withdrawn the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise from Korean waters and sent it into action in the Gulf of Tonkin against North Vietnam. This was the Enterprise's original mission before it was diverted to the sea of Japan shortly after the Pueblo was captured.

Two big U.S. aircraft carriers, the Ranger and the Coral Sea, together with their supporting destroyers and supply vessels, remain in waters near Korea. At its peak, the U.S. naval build-up off Korea totaled more than 20 ships.

The dual problem of Korea and Vietnam is straining the Navy's carrier resources in the Far East.

There normally would be three carriers off North Vietnam launching air strikes, with two other carriers either at Subic Bay in the Philippines for repairs and maintenance or in Hong Kong for crew rest and recreation.

Now, the Navy maintains all five carriers on the line—three off North Vietnam and two off Korea.

This means less time off for necessary upkeep and crew rest. It also may mean longer combat tours in the Far East for carriers which have been spending five or six months at a time on war duty.

Poverty Grants Are Approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Federal grants for operation of anti-poverty programs in Lake and Miami counties, totaling $112,379, were approved by Gov. James A. Rhodes today.

Of the total, $80,536 was allocated to the Lake County Community Action Program committee, Painesville, to finance a year-round child development program, and to maintain the office and staff of the anti-poverty agency.

The second grant, $31,753, was awarded to the Supporting Council of Preventive Effort, Dayton, to provide for a 7½ month child development day care center in Troy. The Troy Episcopal Church is the delegate agency of the project.

Caviness said he watched the ship anchor 10 miles east-northeast of Cape Henry Tuesday morning. He said he had instructions not to board the vessel but to try to get it into inland waters—inside the U.S. territorial limit.

But they were having trouble getting their anchor up," he related, and about 1:30 p.m. he saw three men lower a lifeboat, climb into it and start rowing away.

Soon, he said, a number of men appeared on the deck, the ship got under way, dragging its anchor, and rammed the lifeboat twice.

On a third pass, Caviness said, the ship stopped between the cutter and the lifeboat and "I didn't see them (the three men) anymore."

He didn't interfere Caviness said, because he was awaiting orders and "I wasn't prepared to go out there and take action that might involve the whole nation and might be over my head."

He said that by the time of the third pass he had received orders to "take all necessary

Scattered Action Across Vietnam Costly to Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Four thousand U.S. paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Division have arrived in Vietnam to bolster allied defenses against new Communist attacks and pressure, the American Command announced today.

The new arrivals, the 82nd's 3rd Brigade, are part of the 10,500 men President Johnson ordered from the United States two weeks ago in response to Gen. William C. Westmoreland's urgent request because of North Vietnamese pressure on Khe Sanh and the prospect of new Communist attacks on South Vietnam's cities and towns.

Forty rounds of 122mm rockets streaked into the big allied base at Bien Hoa, 15 miles north of Saigon, before dawn. More Communist shells hit the headquarters of a U.S. Special Forces unit, and 25 rounds of 82mm mortars hit a South Vietnamese army unit.

The U.S. Command said casualties and damages were light, but AP photographer Al Chang, after a tour of the base, reported

Rights Bill Is Changed; May Pass

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil rights bill born of compromise appears destined for Senate passage after a six-week struggle.

The new bill could be presented today if proponents of civil rights legislation agree on the details before the Senate opens for business.

The next move would be a renewed attempt to choke off a debate carried on by Southern and conservative Republican opponents since Congress reconvened Jan. 15.

No final vote on the bill itself is expected before next week at the earliest.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who twice has voted against ending the debate, told newsmen Tuesday "a very substantial measure of agreement" had been reached on the bill.

Dirksen said the compromise measure's open-housing provision "will be stronger than the one I helped kill two years ago."

The compromise open-housing proposal would take effect in three stages, applying immediately to housing financed with federal aid and by the end of the year to big apartments and housing developments.

The third stage, applying in a limited degree to sale or rental of single-family dwellings, reportedly would take effect next year.

Failure of South Vietnam Troops To Attack Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials have been sharply disappointed by South Vietnam's failure to launch fast follow-up attacks on Communist forces weakened by severe losses during their offensive against South Vietnamese cities.

The Viet Cong, according to all the information available here, is now working through much of the countryside of South Vietnam to press new recruits into service and to train and reorganize units for further offensive operations. For the time being they are considered vulnerable to vigorous military action by South Vietnamese forces.

Publicly, Johnson administration authorities speak only good of the South Vietnamese allies and are usually quick to deny critical reports. In the present case, however, officials privately don't conceal their concern about the lack so far of powerful follow-up action.

The situation is acute for two reasons:

1. President Johnson will have provided the North Texas and Oklahoma oil field area with its first air transport service.

In 1921 Hall moved to Warren and opened the flying school he still operates.

"I'm still running it because I own it and have to pay taxes," Hall said. "But I'm thinking of selling out, and I have a chick picked out and am thinking of getting married too."

But as the days pass, a mood of discouragement about their will to do so seems to be growing in Washington.

Ohio Flight Instructor Got Start in Aviation in 1911

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three of the surviving civilian flight instructors of World War I received citations Tuesday from the National Aeronautic Association for gallant performance on behalf of their country.

They were William Diehl, 76, North Bergen, N. J., Ernest Hall, Warren, Ohio, and Allen P. Bourdon, Smyrna, Fla.

Retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Brooke Allen, executive director of the NAA, presented the certificates at a luncheon.

The men were cited for "patriotism, devotion to duty, capability as a pilot, and performance of outstanding service toward the achievement of victory."

Allen said that when the United States declared war on Germany April 6, 1917, the Army had no fighter planes in production and no combat pilots, except for the few Americans in the Lafayette Escadrille and some others flying with the allies.

Allen said about 100 civilians served the Army as flight instructors, and only a few are still living. He said the three certificate recipients were among those who were especially noteworthy in serving until the armistice.

Hall said he tells the "chicks" in Warren, Ohio, that he is 39 or 49, but he admits privately that he is past 70. He soloed in September, 1911.

Hall said he started a flying school at Exposition Park, Conneaut Lake, Pa., in 1915, and started with the Air Service at Wright Field, Ohio, in 1917, and then instructed at Call Field, Wichita Falls, Tex.

After the war Hall leased Call Field's 12 hangars and operated a flying school and

Brown Names Board Member

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown appointed Robert R. Price of Winterville as a Democratic member of the Jefferson County Election Board for a four-year term starting Friday.

The appointment filled a vacancy created by the death Monday of Dr. Domenic A. Macedonia of Steubenville who was named only last Feb. 20 as a board member.

steps to see that this Cuban vessel did not run over this boat a third time... my guns were uncovered."

Coast Guard sources said the armament of the Point Brown included a .50-caliber machine gun and an 81mm mortar. Crewmen leaving the craft upon its return to port carried M1 rifles and submachine guns.

Lt. Cmdr. R. H. Elkins, 43, of North Cape May, N.J., was aboard the Coast Guard tug Chock which arrived later and pulled alongside the 26 de Julio.

Elkins talked through an interpreter to the master of the Cuban vessel, Ricardo Puri, whom he described as "anxious to apologize and explain what happened."

Elkins, executive officer of Group Norfolk, said Puri told him four men, using a gun, seized the ship at 10 p.m. Mon-

French Relay Information to United States

PARIS (AP) — The French government has received explicit information that an unconditional halt in American bombing of North Vietnam would be a "necessary and sufficient condition for an opening of negotiations," a government spokesman said today.

Information Minister Georges Gorse said the French government believes that failure to open negotiations increases each day the risk of seeing the war spread to other parts of the world.

He read a prepared statement after the regular weekly Cabinet meeting with President Charles de Gaulle.

The statement said:

"The declaration of U Thant according to which the unconditional cessation of American bombardments of North Vietnam would be a necessary and sufficient condition for the opening of peace negotiations corresponds to information explicitly received by the French government."

"The Cabinet considers, as does the secretary-general of the United Nations, unless such negotiations are opened, the war of destruction now being conducted in Southeast Asia will continue to spread and take on a character which threatens more every day to endanger the peace of the world."

In a statement issued in New York Saturday, Thant said "it could be reasonably assumed" that an unconditional halt in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam would be followed by "meaningful talks...perhaps within a matter of a few days."

Thant's statement was his first public declaration after a trip to New Delhi, Moscow, London and Paris where he discussed the Vietnam war. In both New Delhi and Paris Thant met North Vietnamese diplomats.

Though Gorse did not say from whom the French government received its information, it was generally assumed it came from the North Vietnamese themselves. France has a diplomatic mission in Hanoi, and North Vietnam has a delegate general, Mai Van Bo, in Paris.

French-North Vietnamese contacts are regular.

Red China Hikes Trade With West

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says Red China's trade with non-Communist countries—particularly in Western Europe—increased sizeably in 1966.

Peking's exports to Western Europe rose 25 per cent from 1965 and its imports from that area were up 36 per cent, Rusk reported Tuesday.

He said its exports to all non-Communist countries were up 20.5 per cent and imports increased 14.4 per cent.

The figures came in Rusk's annual report to Congress on the Mutual Defense Assistance Control Act, which provides control over trade with nations "threatening the security of the United States."

The report also showed a substantial percentage increase in U.S. trade with European Communist countries between 1965 and 1966—from $140 million to $198 million in exports, and from $141.6 million to $182 million in imports.

Rusk reiterated the administration position on trade with Communist countries in saying "the U.S. objective is not to continue the Cold War but to end it."

2 Escapees Are Captured

BELLEFONTAINE, Pa. (AP)—Two of three prisoners who escaped from the Ashtabula, Ohio, County Jail Tuesday are in police custody, charged with being fugitives from justice.

Blair Robinson, 34, of North Madison, Ohio, and Gary Tadtler, 23, of Ashtabula were captured near this Central Pennsylvania community Tuesday night while driving a reported stolen car.

Both are being held in Centre County Jail pending extradition proceedings.

There was no word of the third prisoner, identified by Ohio authorities as Robert Amrose, 23, New Lyme, Ohio.

Ash Wednesday Ushers in Lent

NEW YORK (AP) — Ash Wednesday today ushered in Lent for Christians around the world.

The 40 days of prayer and meditation—with penitence and fasting for many—ends on Easter Sunday.

Ashes are being distributed today in Roman Catholic and some other churches, and special services are being held.

The Democratic candidates for the Senate race have been invited to debate May 4. John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati has accepted, but club officials say they have not heard from Sen. Frank J. Lausche.

Players' Production Keeps Audience Guessing to End

By JEANNE BACH

It was a privilege to review the dress rehearsal of the Roundtown Players second production, Tuesday evening in the Common Pleas Courtroom. As a complete change of pace from their first effort, a comedy—this time it was Agatha Christie's, "Witness for the Prosecution."

Miss Christie weaves some great webs to entangle her characters and this one keeps you guessing till the very end. In the first place, the selection of the courtroom for the staging was a fine piece of ingenuity. The mood is created as you go into the room, for courts of common pleas are impressive and loaded with the emotions of human life. The drama involved in theater and the courtroom are rather closely akin, really. And so, you are psychologically prepared for the action before a word is uttered. The Players have come up with another winner. John Purcell, the director, has shown a great ability both for his job and good casting, and the whole group has exhibited near brilliance in using what is available in the way of theater, props etc. to the very best advantage.

PERFORMANCES will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in the courtroom and you will find the evening well spent and interesting. It is a darned good show. The addition of this phase of the performing arts in Pickaway County is quite a feather in our cap, especially when it is of this caliber.

Some new talents are showing this time. Edith Grigg has been hiding her actress light under a bushel, for her rendition of Janet MacKenzie is really excellent. And now comes Jim Leckrone, a Pickaway Countian who is news director of a Columbus radio station, who plays Sir Wilfred. His part is long and heavy and he gives a great delivery and has fine presence. Tom Matesky is Mr. Mayhew and no matter what type of character he plays, he is always good and always believable.

actor he plays, he is always good and always believable. The plot involves one Leonard Vole, played by Dick Davis, in the murder of Emily French. His rendition is smooth, complete with unctuous smiles and a good range of emotions from naive to nasty.

Gloria Pike as Romain, the female lead, can put a gold star beside her name. "Und" she really gets into that character and comes on like a piece of cold steel.

DR. DAVID Chalmers as Mr. Myers is —wow! A native of Scotland, his accent is delightful, his voice pleasant and masculine and his part expertly done.

As Justice Wainwright, Gordon Fraser has the stature and appearance to carry the part well. His voice and delivery are beyond reproach.

Bringing the story together are Ernie Lindsey as Carter; Mary Gallagher as Greta; Brian Gallagher as Inspector Hearne; Miriam Chalmers as second juror; Judge William Ammer as jury foreman; Mark Jones as the clerk, usher and bailiff; Dr. Robert Liggett as Dr. Wyatt; George Ganley as Mr. Clegg and Lois Smith as the other woman.

As for who killed Emily French, you'd better come see this production because I'll never tell!!!

Checks Taken From Coat Pocket

Kenneth E. Henn, 429 Ruth Ave., told Circleville Police that while his son, Kenneth Jr., was at Bingham Drugs yesterday two checks made out to Prudential Insurance Co. and two insurance books were taken from his coat.

The two checks totaled $4.90. Henn told police he had stopped payment on the two checks.

Pork Council Lists Officers

The Ohio Pork Producers Council met Saturday selecting new officers.

Ernest Roll of Ross County as chairman of the Ohio group; Gerald Bernard, Clinton County, Loudenslager of Marion as second vice president. Marvin Beam, Greene County, retired as past president and will continue to serve as executive member on the National Pork Producers Council. Members of the Ohio group adopted the constitution for their council and made plans for the membership drive across the state.

Junior Kirk, 1967 membership chairman, reported 509 Ohio members as of the first of January, and over 600 members as of this Saturday's annual meeting. The new membership chairman will be Forest Loudenslager, assisted by Junior Kirk, Xenia.

Thos men, along with representatives from the prok-producing counties will guide the Ohio Pork Council toward the state and national goals. They are encouraging the voluntary nickel-for-profit investment by pork producers and urging counties to join in the state membership of $2 in an effort to get each county pork conscious, striving to increase consumer knowledge about the prestige product.

Pickaway County pork producers will be working toward this membership on Friday and will be making plans for county-wide activities during 1968. In charge of the membership drive is The Pickaway County Swine Improvement Committee.

Driver Hurt In Accident

Willard Faulk, 40, Route 4, was injured when he lost control of his car just west of Laurelville on Route 56 at 6:46 p. m. Tuesday.

Faulk sustained several lacerations about the head and other injuries. He was taken to Berger Hospital.

The car he was driving was demolished.

The accident occurred on a curve. Lockard's investigation indicated that Faulk was traveling southeast on Route 56, went left of center and then off the left side of the road, striking a fence and post, and rolling over onto its top.

Doretta Morrow Dies in London

LONDON (AP) — Doretta Morrow, American singing actress who played leading roles in the New York productions of "The King and I" and "Kismet," died of cancer today in London's Middlesex Hospital. She was 41.

Miss Morrow was the wife of Albert Hardman, a London insurance man. They had a 2-year-old daughter, Elena. Her first stage appearance was at New York's 46th Street Theater in 1946, in "The Red Mill."

Stolen Cars, Motorcycle Recovered by Lawmen

Pickaway County Sheriff's Department has recovered two stolen automobiles and a motorcycle.

At 3:30 a. m., the local sheriff's office received a call from Fairfield County that two youths driving a car that had been stolen in Circleville were stopped just west of Amanda.

The youths were 19-year-old

Juvenile Court Hears Seven Cases

Decisions on cases involving six juveniles and one adult were handed down Tuesday by Juvenile Court Judge Guy Cline.

A 14-year-old Orient girl and a 16-year-old Orient boy were charged with having improper relations resulting in the former's pregnancy. The girl was placed on three years probation; the boy was sentenced to four weekends in detention, 150 hours of community service, three years probation and a suspended term in the Ohio State Reformatory.

Dean Culwell, Kingston, was found guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was placed on five years probation and given a six month's suspended sentence to the county jail. A fine of $500 was also suspended.

A Williamsport boy, 17 years old, was charged with being incorrigible and running away. He was ordered to complete 100 hours of community service, placed on probation for three years and received a suspended sentence to the Ohio Youth Commission.

A Circleville boy charged with truancy was placed on three years probation, given six weeks detention and received a suspended sentence to the Ohio Youth Commission.

Two Columbus youths, ages 14 and 17, were found guilty of stealing auto parts. The pair was ordered to make restitution, complete 100 hours each of community work and placed on three years probation. Sentence to the Ohio Youth Commission was suspended.

23 Motorists Cited into Muny Court

Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb heard charges of traffic violations filed Tuesday by the State Highway Patrol against eight local and 15 out-of-county motorists.

Paul Conkel, 19, Route 3, pleaded guilty to charges of speeding 75 miles in a 60 mile zone. He was fined $15 and costs.

George Gerhardt, 61, Mt. Sterling, forfeited a $24 bond set on charges of speeding 65 miles in a 50 mile zone.

George McGlone Jr., 24, Ashville, entered a plea of guilty to charges of failing to obey a stop sign. He was fined $35 and costs.

David Rice, 26, Mt. Sterling, was called before the court on charges of speeding 70 miles in a 50 mile zone. The court declared his $29 bond forfeited when he failed to appear.

Paul Miller Jr., 18, Ashville, was fined $50 and costs for speeding 100 miles in a 60 mile zone.

David Adams, 21, Williamsport, forfeited a $39 bond set on charges of speeding 80 miles in a 50 mile zone.

Charles Sabine, 947 S. Pickaway St., entered a plea of no contest to charges of failing to maintain assured clear distance ahead.

Stock Market Stays Uneven

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ran a recovery movement into its second day but was having some trouble holding gains early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Advances outnumbered declines by a ratio of less than 7 to 4.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.39 at 848.07, backing away from an initial rise of 3.82.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 308.2 with industrials up .9, rails off .2 and utilities up .2.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange remained generally higher although a number of issues fell by the wayside.

There are 1,700 life insurance concerns operating in the United States.

Ted Bean and a 17-year-old juvenile, both escapees from the Zanesville Youth Camp.

In addition to recovering the car owned by Garland Stonerock, E. Main St., the Pickaway Sheriff's Department and City Police recovered a 1957 model car that had been abandoned when Stonerock's car was taken.

Stonerock did not know his car was stolen. Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley cooperated with Fairfield and city authorities in the recovery.

At 11 a. m. yesterday, Pickaway County Deputy Richard Clark recovered a stripped motorcycle from Walnut Creek at the Perrill Road bridge. Everything had been taken from the motorcycle except the frame and the motor.

The motorcycle had apparently just recently been thrown in the creek. At the same time Deputy Clark recovered a 1955 model car which had been abandoned along the Walnut Creek Pike just south of Perrill Road.

The battery, distributor and rear seat had been removed from the car. It had been parked along the road for several days, and was reported stolen out of Columbus.

Saigon's Ton Son Nhut air base took two enemy rounds during the night in the general flurry of shelling around the capital, but no casualties were reported there and damage was negligible.

Military activity also picked up in the central highlands near Dak To, scene of one of the war's bloodiest battles last November, and near Tam Ky, along the coast 350 miles north-east of Saigon.

At Dak To, fresh North Vietnamese troops sprang on outnumbered U.S. 4th Division infantrymen twice Tuesday. An estimated battalion of the enemy—about 500 men—was repulsed both times and left 49 dead on the battlefield, 15 miles west-northwest of Dak To, U.S. spokesmen said.

The U.S. troops reported two dead and 24 wounded in the day-long fighting and said mortar and sniper fire continued into the night.

One American officer said the North Vietnamese apparently had crossed the nearby Laotian-Cambodian border recently. He said the bodies that were found wore clean new uniforms and seemed to have a full quota of ammunition.

At Tam Ky units of the American Division fought a four-hour engagement Tuesday with an enemy force of unknown size. Sweeping the battlefield afterward, U.S. troops counted 148 enemy bodies, the U.S. Command said, while two Americans were killed and 14 wounded.

Grain Dryer Overheats, Burns

Fire destroyed a grain dryer and its contents at the Updyke Farm 9:07 p. m. Tuesday on the Red Bridge-East Ringgold Road.

The dryer belonged to Harold Pontious, Route 1. The fire started when the dryer became overheated. The Ashville-Harrison Fire Department was called to douse the blaze. Firemen had to cut a hole in the side of the dryer in order to get to the burning grain.

The dryer was fired with butane gas. Estimated damage to the dryer was $500 and to the contents $250. Both dryer and the contents were insured.

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley assisted the Ashville-Harrison firefighters.

Tempo Picks Up In Ohio Assembly; Adjournment Near

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House Finance Committee recommended passage last Tuesday night of the administration's $750 million bond issue proposal after defeating several far-reaching amendments.

The vote capped a fast-moving legislative day that also included initial House hearings on the legislative, judicial, and county pay raise bill. Several other big measures popped from committees as leaders drove toward final adjournment this weekend.

In other action: — The House added its approval to a Senate bill requiring annual inspection of bridges and setting inspection standards. The measure resulted from the Ohio River "Silver Bridge" disaster which killed 46 persons last Dec. 15.

— Both chambers agreed to conference committee recommendations and completed passage of a bill providing pension increases for 64,000 retired members of the state's three retirement systems. Increases range from 2 per cent for those who retired in 1967 or will retire before next July 1, to 24.7 per cent for those who retired prior to Dec. 31, 1955. Cost of the increase will be borne by employers. It is estimated at $7.7 million a year.

— The Senate Agriculture and State Agencies Committee recommended passage of a house bill to postpone statewide meat inspection until July 1, 1969 when federal funds will become available to help pay the cost.

— A subcommittee of the House State Government Committee recommended adoption of a resolution requesting that drilling for oil or gas in Lake Erie be prohibited pending further studies to determine what pollution problems they would create.

— The Senate added its approval to a House bill permitting use of the words cream, milk, and dairy on imitation dairy products provided they contain a specified amount of milk solids.

The Senate passed and sent to the House bills clarifying the right of the welfare director to set poor relief standards the same as those for Aid to Dependent Children in order to qualify for federal funds, and authorizing the transfer of slightly more than an acre of land in the city of Kettering for highway purposes.

Senators also approved and completed passage of a House bill setting penalties for rules and regulations of local health boards.

Representatives completed passage of a Senate measure permitting ADC payments to a third party with whom the recipient lives; revived and restored a previously defeated emergency clause on a bill creating a Higher Education

Facilities Commission which would issue revenue bonds for construction of facilities and lease them to privately endowed universities. A House-passed resolution called on Congress to control the import of foreign steel.

In other areas where the enemy has been recently repulsed, he said, the forces under Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, hold the initiative.

Wheeler also echoed the State Department concern over new Communist assaults in Laos and appeared to hint the U.S. might take some action in connection with those attacks.

"It's something we're going to have to take account of," he said.

The general said there apparently has been a series of North Vietnamese attacks against certain key areas in Laos. He termed them "disturbing."

Wheeler also said he remains convinced U.S. Marines can hold the key outpost of Khe Sanh although they face a numerically superior enemy force.

Players' Production Keeps Audience Guessing to End

By JEANNE BACH

It was a privilege to review the dress rehearsal of the Roundtown Players second production, Tuesday evening in the Common Pleas Courtroom. As a complete change of pace from their first effort, a comedy—this time it was Agatha Christie's, "Witness for the Prosecution."

Miss Christie weaves some great webs to entangle her characters and this one keeps you guessing till the very end.

In the first place, the selection of the courtroom for the staging was a fine piece of ingenuity. The mood is created as you go into the room, for courts of common pleas are impressive and loaded with the emotions of human life. The drama involved in theater and the courtroom are rather closely akin, really. And so, you are psychologically prepared for the action before a word is uttered.

The Players have come up with another winner. John Purcell, the director, has shown a great ability both for his job and good casting, and the whole group has exhibited near brilliance in using what is available in the way of theater, props etc. to the very best advantage.

PERFORMANCES will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in the courtroom and you will find the evening well spent and interesting. It is a darned good show. The addition of this phase of the performing arts in Pickaway County is quite a feather in our cap, especially when it is of this caliber.

Some new talents are showing this time. Edith Grigg has been hiding her actress light under a bushel, for her rendition of Janet MacKenzie is really excellent.

And now comes Jim Leckrone, a Pickaway Countian who is news director of a Columbus radio station, who plays Sir Wilfred. His part is long and heavy and he gives a great delivery and has fine presence.

Tom Matesky is Mr. Mayhew and no matter what type of character he plays, he is always good and always believable.

The plot involves one Leonard Vole, played by Dick Davis, in the murder of Emily French. His rendition is smooth, complete with uncanny smiles and a good range of emotions from naive to nasty.

Gloria Pike as Romain, the female lead, can put a gold star beside her name. "Und" she really gets into that character and comes on like a piece of cold steel.

***

DR. DAVID Chalmers as Mr. Myers is — wow! A native of Scotland, his accent is delightful, his voice pleasant and masculine and his part expertly done.

As Justice Wainright, Gordon Fraser has the stature and appearance to carry the part well. His voice and delivery are beyond reproach.

Bringing the story together are Ernie Lindsey as Carter; Mary Gallagher as Grete; Brian Gallagher as Inspector Hearne; Miriam Chalmers as second juror; Judge William Ammer as jury foreman; Mark Jones as the clerk, usher and bailiff; Dr. Robert Liggett, as Dr. Wyatt; George Ganley as Mr. Clegg and Lois Smith as the other woman.

As for who killed Emily French, you'd better come see, this production because I'll never tell !!!

Serving on various committees for this presentation are the following:

Costumes — Lois Smith, Jim Anderson, Carol Tinney, Marsha Moore, Louise Spear.

PROPERTIES — Kathy and Joe Smith, Stelle O'Hara, Betty Goodman.

Set — Marilyn and George Ganley, Eugene Dowler.

PROGRAMS — Doris Luna, Marsha Moore.

Prompter — Bobbie Davis.

Mainly About People

John L. Rhoades of Route 1, Kingston, has been dismissed from Chillicothe Hospital.

Charles Landman, New Holland, is a surgical patient in University Hospital, Columbus. His room number is 601.

Pearl Valentine, Jr., Route 4, has been released from Grant Hospital, Columbus, where he was a surgical patient.

Free, 8 week old pups, make good pets. William L. Cook, 131 Park Place.

Checks Taken From Coat Pocket

Kenneth E. Henn, 429 Ruth Ave., told Circleville Police that while his son, Kenneth Jr., was at Bingham Drugs yesterday two checks made out to Prudential Insurance Co. and two insurance books were taken from his coat.

The two checks totaled $4.90. Henn told police he had stopped payment on the two checks.

Pork Council Lists Officers

The Ohio Pork Producers Council met Saturday selecting new officers.

Ernest Roll of Ross County as chairman of the Ohio group; Gerald Bernard, Clinton County, Loudenslager of Marion as second vice president. Marvin Beam, Greene County, retired as past president and will continue to serve as executive member on the National Pork Producers Council. Members of the Ohio group adopted the constitution for their council and made plans for the membership drive across the state.

Junior Kirk, 1967 membership chairman, reported 509 Ohio members as of the first of January, and over 600 members as of this Saturday's annual meeting. The new membership chairman will be Forest Loudenslager, assisted by Junior Kirk, Xenia.

Those men, along with representatives from the pork-producing counties will guide the Ohio Pork Council toward the state and national goals. They are encouraging the voluntary nickel-for-profit investment by pork producers and urging counties to join in the state membership of $2 in an effort to get each county pork conscious, striving to increase consumer knowledge about the prestige product.

Pickaway County pork producers will be working toward this membership on Friday and will be making plans for county-wide activities during 1968. In charge of the membership drive is The Pickaway County Swine Improvement Committee.

Driver Hurt In Accident

Willard Faulk, 40, Route 4, was injured when he lost control of his car just west of Laurelville on Route 56 at 6:46 p. m. Tuesday.

Faulk sustained several lacerations about the head and other injuries. He was taken to Berger Hospital.

The car he was driving was demolished.

James Lockard, investigating officer of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, cited Faulk for driving left of center. Faulk told Deputy Lockard he did not know what happened.

The accident occurred on a curve. Lockard's investigation indicated that Faulk was traveling southeast on Route 56, went left of center and then off the left side of the road, striking a fence and post, and rolling over onto its top.

Doretta Morrow Dies in London

LONDON (AP) — Doretta Morrow, American singing actress who played leading roles in the New York productions of "The King and I" and "Kismet," died of cancer today in London's Middlesex Hospital. She was 41.

Miss Morrow was the wife of Albert Hardman, a London insurance man. They had a 2-year-old daughter, Elena.

Her first stage appearance was at New York's 46th Street Theater in 1946, in "The Red Mill."

Stolen Cars, Motorcycle Recovered by Lawmen

Pickaway County Sheriff's Department has recovered two stolen automobiles and a motorcycle.

At 3:30 a. m., the local sheriff's office received a call from Fairfield County that two youths driving a car that had been stolen in Circleville were stopped just west of Amanda.

The youths were 19-year-old

Juvenile Court Hears Seven Cases

Decisions on cases involving six juveniles and one adult were handed down Tuesday by Juvenile Court Judge Guy Cline.

A 14-year-old Orient girl and a 16-year-old Orient boy were charged with having improper relations resulting in the former's pregnancy. The girl was placed on three years probation; the boy was sentenced to four weekends in detention, 150 hours of community service, three years probation and a suspended term in the Ohio State Reformatory.

Dean Culwell, Kingston, was found guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was placed on five years probation and given a six month's suspended sentence to the county jail. A fine of $500 was also suspended.

A Williamsport boy, 17 years old, was charged with being incorrigible and running away. He was ordered to complete 100 hours of community service, placed on probation for three years and received a suspended sentence to the Ohio Youth Commission.

A Circleville boy charged with truancy was placed on three years probation, given six weeks detention and received a suspended sentence to the Ohio Youth Commission.

Two Columbus youths, ages 14 and 17, were found guilty of stealing auto parts. The pair was ordered to make restitution, complete 100 hours each of community work and placed on three years probation. Sentence to the Ohio Youth Commission was suspended.

23 Motorists Cited into Muny Court

Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb heard charges of traffic violations filed Tuesday by the State Highway Patrol against eight local and 15 out-of-county motorists.

Paul Conkel, 19, Route 3, pleaded guilty to charges of speeding 75 miles in a 60 mile zone. He was fined $15 and costs.

George Gerhardt, 61, Mt. Sterling, forfeited a $24 bond set on charges of speeding 65 miles in a 50 mile zone.

George McGlone Jr., 24, Ashville, entered a plea of guilty to charges of failing to obey a stop sign. He was fined $35 and costs.

David Rice, 26, Mt. Sterling, was called before the court on charges of speeding 70 miles in a 50 mile zone. The court declared his $29 bond forfeited when he failed to appear.

Paul Miller Jr., 18, Ashville, was fined $50 and costs for speed ing 100 miles in a 60 mile zone.

David Adams, 21, Williamsport, forfeited a $39 bond set on charges of speeding 80 miles in a 50 mile zone.

Charles Sabine, 947 S. Pickaway St., entered a plea of no contest to charges of failing to maintain assured clear distance ahead.

Stock Market Stays Uneven

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ran a recovery movement into its second day but was having some trouble holding gains early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Advances outnumbered declines by a ratio of less than 7 to 4.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.39 at 848.07, backing away from an initial rise of 3.82.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 308.2 with industrials up .9, rails off .2 and utilities up .2.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange remained generally higher although a number of issues fell by the wayside.

There are 1,700 life insurance concerns operating in the United States.

Ted Bean and a 17-year-old juvenile, both escapees from the Zanesville Youth Camp.

In addition to recovering the car owned by Garland Stonerock, E. Main St., the Pickaway Sheriff's Department and City Police recovered a 1957 model car that had been abandoned when Stonerock's car was taken.

Stonerock did not know his car was stolen. Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley cooperated with Fairfield and city authorities in the recovery.

At 11 a. m. yesterday, Pickaway County Deputy Richard Clark recovered a stripped motorcycle from Walnut Creek at the Perrill Road bridge. Everything had been taken from the motorcycle except the frame and the motor.

The motorcycle had apparently just recently been thrown in the creek. At the same time Deputy Clark recovered a 1958 model car which had been abandoned along the Walnut Creek Pike just south of Perrill Road.

The battery, distributor and rear seat had been removed from the car. It had been parked along the road for several days, and was reported stolen out of Columbus.

ed one rocket made a direct hit on a sandbagged bunker and killed all 12 Americans inside.

Saigon's Ton Son Nhut air base took two enemy rounds during the night in the general flurry of shelling around the capital, but no casualties were reported there and damage was negligible.

Military activity also picked up in the central highlands near Dak To, scene of one of the war's bloodiest battles last November, and near Tam Ky, along the coast 350 miles northwest of Saigon.

At Dak To, fresh North Vietnamese troops sprang on outnumbered U.S. 4th Division infantrymen twice Tuesday. An estimated battalion of the enemy—about 500 men—was repulsed both times and left 49 dead on the battlefield, 15 miles west-northwest of Dak To, U.S. spokesman said.

The U.S. troops reported two dead and 24 wounded in the day-long fighting and said mortar and sniper fire continued into the night.

One American officer said the North Vietnamese apparently had crossed the nearby Laotian-Cambodian border recently. He said the bodies that were found were clean new uniforms and seemed to have a full quota of ammunition.

At Tam Ky units of the Americal Division fought a four-hour engagement Tuesday with an enemy force of unknown size. Sweeping the battlefield afterward, U.S. troops counted 148 enemy bodies, the U.S. Command said, while two Americans were killed and 14 wounded.

Grain Dryer Overheats, Burns

Fire destroyed a grain dryer and its contents at the Uptake Farm 9:07 p. m. Tuesday on the Red Bridge-East Ringgold Road.

The dryer belonged to Harold Pontious, Route 1. The fire started when the dryer became overheated. The Ashville-Harrison Fire Department was called to douse the blaze. Firemen had to cut a hole in the side of the dryer in order to get to the burning grain.

The dryer was fired with butane gas. Estimated damage to the dryer was $500 and to the contents $250. Both dryer and contents were insured.

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley assisted the Ashville-Harrison firefighters.

Tempo Picks Up In Ohio Assembly; Adjournment Near

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House Finance Committee recommended passage late Tuesday night of the administration's $750 million bond issue proposal after defeating several far-reaching amendments.

The vote capped a fast-moving legislative day that also included initial House hearings on the legislative, judicial, and county pay raise bill. Several other big measures popped from committees as leaders drove toward final adjournment this weekend.

In other action: — The House added its approval to a Senate bill requiring annual inspection of bridges and setting inspection standards. The measure resulted from the Ohio River "Silver Bridge" disaster which killed 46 persons last Dec. 15.

— Both chambers agreed to conference committee recommendations and completed passage of a bill providing pension increases for 64,000 retired members of the state's three retirement systems. Increases range from 2 per cent for those who retired in 1967 or will retire before next July 1, to 24.7 per cent for those who retired prior to Dec. 31, 1955. Cost of the increase will be borne by employers. It is estimated at $7.7 million a year.

— The Senate Agriculture and State Agencies Committee recommended passage of a house bill to postpone statewide meat inspection until July 1, 1969 when federal funds will become available to help pay the cost.

— A subcommittee of the House State Government Committee recommended adoption of a resolution requesting that drilling for oil or gas in Lake Erie be prohibited pending further studies to determine what pollution problems they would create.

— The Senate added its approval to a House bill permitting use of the words cream, milk, and dairy on imitation dairy products provided they contain a specified amount of milk solids.

The Senate passed and sent to the House bills clarifying the right of the welfare director to set poor relief standards the same as those for Aid to Dependent Children in order to qualify for federal funds, and authorizing the transfer of liability more than an acre of land in the city of Kettering for highway purposes.

Senators also approved and completed passage of a House bill setting penalties for rules and regulations of local health boards.

Representatives completed passage of a Senate measure permitting ADC payments to a third party with whom the recipient lives; revived and restored a previously defeated emergency clause on a bill creating a Higher Education and the North Vietnamese still have sizable forces with considerable tactical mobility.

In other areas where the enemy has been recently repulsed, he said, the forces under Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, hold the initiative.

Wheeler also echoed the State Department concern over new Communist assaults in Laos and appeared to hint the U.S. might take some action in connection with those attacks.

"It's something we're going to have to take account of," he said.

The general said there apparently has been a series of North Vietnamese attacks against certain key areas in Laos. He termed them "disturbing."

Wheeler also said he remains convinced U.S. Marines can hold the key outpost of Khe Sanh although they face a numerically superior enemy force.

Pick a Number

Statistics are the propagandist's best friend — his word in victory, his shield in defeat. He and his enemy — another propagandist — can employ identical figures and come up with diametrically opposite results.

For example, in 1929 one hour's factory work would buy 1.2 pounds of steak, 6.4 loaves of bread, 7.3 pints of milk or 1 pound of butter. In 1966 the same hour of factory work was worth 3 pounds of steak, 13 loaves of bread, 19 pints of milk or 4 pounds of butter.

This can be read as meaning that wages have been pushed up out of all proportion to what the farmer receives for his produce. Or it could be interpreted as proving that, by 1966, the worker was receiving a more just proportion of the national income.

Those who are neither farmer nor factory worker could take the view that things economic are even more out of joint now than they were on the eve of the great depression of the 1930s.

Pick a number — or, better, several numbers. It's all good clean fun.

The World Today

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ostensible reason F. Clinton White showed up at last week's Republican National Committee meeting here was to lend California Gov. Ronald Reagan's help to other GOP governors seeking larger voice in their party's platform deliberations.

White, one of the masterminds of Barry Goldwater's 1964 campaign for the GOP presidential nomination, has recently gone to work for the California GOP national convention delegation, which Reagan will head as a favorite son.

Republican officials from Pennsylvania insisted that White's visit to their suite was to help Gov. Raymond P. Shafer in his so far unsuccessful effort to win co-billing with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen on the platform committee.

They denied in private discussions that any alliance is shaping up between the conservative Reagan and Republican moderates, who favor either Michigan Gov. George Romney or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the party's presidential nomination.

But such an alliance, aimed at front-running Richard M. Nixon, could make a great deal of sense to both camps.

Romney's presidential hopes are tied directly to his uphill effort to defeat Nixon in the New Hampshire and Wisconsin presidential primaries.

As for Rockefeller and Reagan, who have said they are not candidates but whose supporters keep pushing them, their chances depend largely on whether Nixon falters enough during the primary season to turn the GOP convention into an open battle.

Republican congressional leaders, such as Wisconsin's Melvin R. Laird, who feel Rockefeller would be a stronger candidate than Nixon, think the former vice president will be the nominee if he sweeps primaries in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon.

But if he slips the convention could become a wide-open affair, with as many as 15 GOP favorite-son candidates, most of them governors, assuming an increasing importance. Rockefeller as well as Reagan is scheduled to be favorite-son candidate.

In such a situation, supporters of both Rockefeller and Reagan have reason to think their man could emerge as the nominee.

Reagan will start with a nucleus of California plus a large bloc of Southern states which will support Nixon at the start but consider Reagan a stronger candidate in a three-cornered race with President Johnson and former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Reagan supporters are also hoping many of the 1964 convention delegates, who gave Goldwater the nomination on the first ballot, will be at Miami Beach eager to support the most conservative possibility.

Rockefeller has strong support among GOP governors, who will play a strong role in the selection of delegates from their states.

One party source estimated recently that at least 10 governors favor Rockefeller, to 4 for Nixon and 2-Rockefeller himself and Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chaffee—for Romney. Most of the other 10 governors are HOLLYWOOD (AP) — To the outsider, the pop music field seems to offer ample opportunity to get rich in a hurry. Glen Campbell, a handsome six-footer from Delight, Ark., knows better.

For five years, Campbell played guitar for record artists like Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin and for movie scores such as "Cool Hand Luke" and "In the Heat of the Night." Meanwhile he tried to establish himself as a singer, but met with scant success. Finally last December he hit with a haunting lament, "By the Time I Get to Phoenix."

"That's when I made a New Year's resolution," he recalls. "I vowed to give up accompaniment."

ing other singers and devote full time to my own career."

The resolve was fiscally more brave than it seems. Campbell was turning his back on a career that earned him a handsome $50,000 a year and was embarking on the chance life of a pop singer.

"Believe me, I know how tough it can be," he remarked. "I've played for recording sessions of some of these teen-age sensations, and I've seen them come and go. Nothing can be less permanent than a singer who hits with one smash record. Where's Chubby Checker right now?"

Campbell's career seems to be on firmer ground. He has followed up the "Phoenix" hit by playing concert dates all over the country. His most promising opportunity will come this summer when he takes over as a host of the Smothers Brothers replacement show, Tommy Smothers, one of Glen's most enthusiastic supporters, will produce the show.

Campbell has the qualifications for success: a clear and expressive style that compensates for what he lacks in timber, an ingratiating manner unspoiled by false humility; superb musicianship.

He started playing guitar back in Arkansas when he was 6, and by the time he was 8 he had his own radio show—"no pay, just cards and letters." The seventh son of a family that included eight sons and four daughters, Glen joined an uncle's band in Albuquerque as a teen-ager, then toured with his own outfit. After traveling 105,000 miles in a station wagon for 11 months, he decided to settle down in Hollywood. His skill with the guitar made him much in demand for record sessions.

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is the value of fluoride, as a preventative against dental decay, still a matter of debate and confusion?

Almost every new scientific discovery has its own protagonists and antagonists. Vaccines against diphtheria, at the turn of the century, had as many detractors as did the discovery of the polio vaccine. So it is with the use of any new drug or new concept in medicine. Even penicillin had its biased skeptics. Cortisone has its own group of dissenters.

Why should fluoride be any different? When it was suggested that fluoride would arbitrarily be put in the water reservoir of many cities the hue and cry was great that this would be a violation of national, international and constitutional rights. We'll leave the political implications to others.

This dogmatic fact can be stated and restated that the advantages of fluoridation, as a preventative against dental decay, is now accepted by medical and dental associations.

In Newburgh, New York, the result of fluoridation has been spectacular. It is estimated that there has been a reduction of about 90 per cent of the number of missing teeth in children.

The scientific statistics appear definite and undeniable. The fears that fluoride in the water might be dangerous, over a long period of time, does not seem to have any real basis in fact. Certainly, the occasional disadvantage is more than compensated by the dental health of the community.

A complaint that fluoride might have caused some mottling of the tooth enamel did arise. So rarely did it happen that it would be in error to sacrifice the dental health of many children because of this rare occurrence.

Why do some people bristle so easily and develop ugly black and blue marks?

Black and blue marks under the skin are not nearly as pretty and attractive as their medical name, ecchymosis. They are all caused by leakage of blood from a broken blood vessel. The blood vessel may be a tiny one just underneath the surface of the skin, or it may lie more deeply and may bleed because of more severe injury.

People with fair skin, especially those with an extra layer of soft fat, seem to be blemished rather easily. The combination of fair skin, blonde hair and blue eyes seem to bruise more easily than others. Only rarely is there an important medical reason. In some individuals the blood vessels and capillaries seem to be more fragile and break with the slightest touch.

This capillary fragility may have no important blood disorder to produce it.

There are some types of anemia and, of course, hemophilia, the "bleeder's" disease of royalty, that are responsible for bleeding almost without provocation.

The resistance of some people to physical injury is a difficult to explain as is the resistance of others to emotional disturbances. There are psychological and bodily thresholds in all people that vary from time to time. Mothers very often complain of the beatings they take from their young infants who, in an uncontrolled way, are responsible for the black and blue marks they carry.

According to Boyle

By DEE WEDEMEYER (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Car thieves cause more trouble to police departments than murderers. There are more of them and they are harder to catch. Murders are generally crimes of passion, and such crimes are usually easier to solve than those committed for money.

One of the puzzling things about having a miniskirted teen-age daughter today is that when she leaves the house you never can be sure by the way she's dressed whether she's going ice skating, to a ballet lesson, or to a school dance.

Many people can successfully write down the names of the 50 states in 10 minutes or less. But you can usually win money by betting any middle-aged man that in the same length of time he can't remember his social security number, his auto license number, his zip code number, and the old home telephone number of the last girl he dated before he married his wife.

Aside from its over exploitation of sex, Hollywood's worst habit is the making of those windy color epics so long that they have to have an intermission. Why pay an extra buck or so at the box office to see such a film when five years from now you can see it for nothing on television—and enjoy 12 or 15 intermissions?

You know you're in Greenwich Village when you see a girl in blue slacks walking down the street carrying a sack of groceries in one hand and a peacock feather in the other.

It gives more of a feeling of life to browse in an old-fashioned pawnshop than in a modern art gallery. There is no better place to sense the wistful wear and tear of this world, the forlorn battering of its dreams, than in a pawnshop unless it be an unkept and abandoned cemetery.

If I could be any age I wanted and live wherever I chose, I'd like at the moment to be 30 and live in an apartment in London with Julie Christie as a neighbor on one side, Julie Andrews on the other, and Audrey Hepburn as the tenant in the apartment across the hall.

One way to tell whether a banquet in Manhattan is important is to look around and see whether genial James A. Farley, the former U.S. postmaster general, is there. If he isn't, you can figure there's a bigger and probably better banquet somewhere else in town. Jim at 79 is still the bellwether and barometer of the banquet business.

Farms are getting fewer, cities getting larger. While this trend has its disadvantages, it also promises one great boon. At future cocktail parties you won't run into so many of those folksy fellows who proclaim, "I'm just a pore 'ill' old country boy tryin' to git along."

Maybe what this country needs is a fat man as president. When William Howard Taft lived in the White House—from 1909 to 1913—the country had rarely ever been calmer at home or freer from wars and alarms abroad. Taft weighed between 300 and 334 pounds. Could there be a connection between presidential girth and national peace?

Few things annoy the head of a business firm more, after he thrifly dries his hands on a single paper towel in the washroom, than seeing the office boy come in and use three or four to perform the same chore. But—that's democracy.

Even more than men, women are likely to judge the desirability of a thing by its price. If beer were to suddenly go to $10 a bottle and champagne fall to a dime a bucket, nine out of ten women would immediately decide they disliked champagne because of its nasty bubbles and preferred beer because it has such lovely foam.

Winter has been too much with us. It sure is a long time between Aprils, isn't it? I'd give a million icicles right now for the sight of one golden dandelion.

Literary Conscience Stirs

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Salem, Oregon — The political spotlight in Oregon is on the Presidential primaries, which, coming after New Hampshire, Wisconsin, and Nebraska, could be a make-or-break affair for specific Republicans and even for Lyndon Johnson's November chances if he fails to do well locally against Eugene McCarthy. But, at a deeper level, Oregon pinpoints the importance of the local regional issue in the coming November vote. More than Republican Presidential personalities, even more than the issue of Vietnam, the inability of the Johnson Administration to deal with a host of smaller grievances could spell the difference between national victory or defeat. The sum total of the smaller grievances might yet give validity to the slogan that "ABJ" — or "Anybody But Johnson" — Could beat LBJ.

In Oregon, as in the Northwest generally, the dependence of the local economy on wood and its products is paramount. High interest rates that spell tightness in the mortgage market, and fewer home building starts, mean trouble for the Administration. Then there is the "logs for Japan" issue, which is agitating local mill owners who can't afford to bid against Tokyo's willingness to log high for purchases of hemlock, cedar, fir, and Sitka spruce logs. No American mill can pay $180 "per thousand" for select spruce and live.

When Oregon's then Governor Mark Hatfield was going against Bob Duncan, who was Lyndon Johnson's "hawkish" choice for the U.S. Senate in 1966, he faced almost certain defeat because of his "dove" sentiments on Vietnam. But Hatfield, in his extremity, suddenly grabbed the ball on the local issue of the impact of the high cost of mortgage money on Oregon employment, forgetting Vietnam for the time being. The local issue put Hatfield in.

The lesson has not been lost on the Oregon and Washington contestants for 1968. Senator Wayne Morse, who will be fighting for his life in the Democratic primary against the same Bob Duncan who almost lost him the U.S. as a whole upset Mark Hatfield in the last Senatorial election, is very busy campaigning for a "set aside" of logs for local lumber mills. He can hardly win on this point alone, for every candidate for national or state office in Oregon must take a similar position.

But the point is that, where Morse might satisfy his constituents because of his stand on log exports and on home building interest rates, LBJ must help the Democratic nominee for the Senate out on these issues if he is to win in the Northwest for himself.

But what can LBJ actually do to help Oregon and Washington in the Pacific Northwest on the things that are hurting the local economy? The logs that go to Japan for such high prices from the U.S. Forest Service national timber reserves, and from big timber tract owners such as Weyerhaeuser, are a substantial factor in offsetting our balance-of-payments deficit. Secretary of the Treasury Fowler's interest here cuts directly across the local finishing mill interests. Secretary of State Dean Rusk is involved, too, for if a quota, or a "set aside" system, were used to cut down on Japan's log purchases, it could hurt a foreign policy that depends on keeping the Japanese happy. Negotiations on the "log jam" are about to begin in Tokyo on the very day that this column is being written, but there is no assurance that Japan will favor any agreement that tends to diminish its access to unmilled Northwest spruce, fir, and cedar timber even in small degree.

How important all this is to Oregon can be read in certain basic economic statistics. The local forest products industry has consistently employed about half of the manufacturing employees at work in the state. It has accounted for approximately half of the value added to local manufactures. The housing industry of the whole nation is also heavily involved, for almost a fourth of the lumber produced in the U. S. comes from Oregon.

Unemployment in Oregon has been running at a higher rate than in the U. S. as a whole ever since 1965. The major reason is depression in the lumber and plywood industry.

Other regions may have other "small grievances" calculated to hurt LBJ. Instead of worrying unduly over candidates in the primaries, the Republicans would do well to add up the small grievances.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A SURVIVOR of the Johnstown Flood who had told the years, finally died of old age and went to Heaven.

Settled there, St. Peter stopped by to ask if everything came up to expectations. "It's great," was the enthusiastic response, "but I'd sure like to tell some of these angels about the Johnstown flood!"

St. Peter obligingly assembled an audience for the old boy, and just before the recital began, he whispered in his ear, "I think I'd better warn you: Noah is in your audience."

Broods the disquieting C. F. Kettering, "The day you were born, everybody in the world was older than you were. When you reached 26, there were just as many people younger as there were older. That's the half-way point. When you're 40, eighty per cent of them are younger." Mr. Kettering says he's too considerate to go on figuring from there!

Ad in a North Carolina paper: "My wife's too fat. You can have my 1965 Volkswagen very cheap." Ad in the same space in the following morning's issue: "For sale at tremendous bargain: 1965 Volkswagen and 1939 husband—both slightly dented."

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is the value of fluoride, as a preventative against dental decay, still a matter of debate and confusion?

Almost every new scientific discovery has its own protagonists and antagonists. Vaccines against diphtheria, at the turn of the century, had as many detractors as did the discovery of the polio vaccine. So it is with the use of any new drug or new concept in medicine. Even penicillin had its biased skeptics. Cortisone has its own group of dissenters.

Why should fluoride be any different? When it was suggested that fluoride would arbitrarily be put in the water reservoir of many cities the hue and cry was great that this would be a violation of national, international and constitutional rights. We'll leave the political implications to others.

This dogmatic fact can be stated and restated that the advantages of fluoridation, as a preventative against dental decay, is now accepted by medical and dental associations.

In Newburgh, New York, the result of fluoridation has been spectacular. It is estimated that there has been a reduction of about 90 per cent of the number of missing teeth in children.

The scientific statistics appear definite and undeniable. The fears that fluoride in the water might be dangerous, over a long period of time, does not seem to have any real basis in fact. Certainly, the occasional disadvantage is more than compensated by the dental health of the community.

A complaint that fluoride might have caused some mottling of the tooth enamel did arise. So rarely did it happen that it would be in error to sacrifice the dental health of many children because of this rare occurrence.

Why do some people bruise so easily and develop ugly black and blue marks?

Black and blue marks under the skin are not nearly as pretty and attractive as their medical name, ecchymosis. They are all caused by leakage of blood from a broken blood vessel. The blood vessel may be a tiny one just underneath the surface of the skin, or it may lie more deeply and may bleed because of more severe injury.

People with fair skin, especially those with an extra layer of soft fat, seem to be bleached rather easily. The combination of fair skin, blonde hair and blue eyes seem to bruise more easily than others.

Only rarely is there an important medical reason. In some individuals the blood vessels and capillaries seem to be more fragile and break with the slightest touch.

This capillary fragility may have no important blood disorder to produce it.

There are some types of anemia and, of course, hemophilia, the "bleeder's" disease of royalty, that are responsible for bleeding almost without provocation.

The resistance of some people to physical injury is a difficult to explain as is the resistance of others to emotional disturbances. There are psychological and bodily thresholds in all people that vary from time to time. Mothers very often complain of the beatings they take from their young infants who, in an uncontrolled way, are responsible for the black and blue marks they carry.

According to Boyle

By DEE WEDEMEYER (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Car thieves cause more trouble to police departments than murderers. There are more of them and they are harder to catch. Murders are generally crimes of passion, and such crimes are usually easier to solve than those committed for money.

One of the puzzling things about having a miniskirted teen-age daughter today is that when she leaves the house you never can be sure by the way she's dressed whether she's going ice skating, to a ballet lesson, or to a school dance.

Many people can successfully write down the names of the 50 states in 10 minutes or less. But you can usually win money by betting any middle-aged man that in the same length of time he can't remember his social security number, his auto license number, his zip code number, and the old home telephone number of the last girl he dated before he married his wife.

Aside from its over exploitation of sex, Hollywood's worst habit is the making of those windy color epics so long that they have to have an intermission. Why pay an extra buck or so at the box office to see such a film when five years from now you can see it for nothing on television—and enjoy 12 or 15 intermissions?

You know you're in Greenwich Village when you see a girl in blue slacks walking down the street carrying a sack of groceries in one hand and a peacock feather in the other.

It gives more of a feeling of life to browse in an old-fashioned pawnshop than in a modern art gallery. There is no better place to sense the wistful wear and tear of this world, the forlorn battering of its dreams, than in a pawnshop unless it be an unkept and abandoned cemetery.

If I could be any age I wanted and live wherever I chose, I'd like at the moment to be 30 and live in an apartment in London with Julie Christie as a neighbor on one side, Julie Andrews on the other, and Audrey Hepburn as the tenant in the apartment across the hall.

One way to tell whether a banquet in Manhattan is important is to look around and see whether genial James A. Farley, the former U.S. postmaster general, is there. If he isn't, you can figure there's a bigger and probably better banquet somewhere else in town. Jim at 79 is still the bellwether and barometer of the banquet business.

Farms are getting fewer, cities getting larger. While this trend has its disadvantages, it also promises one great boon. At future cocktail parties you won't run into so many of those folksy fellows who proclaim, "I'm just a pore l'il' old country boy tryin' to git along."

Maybe what this country needs is a fat man as president. When William Howard Taft lived in the White House—from 1909 to 1913—the country had rarely ever been calmer at home or freer from wars and armaments abroad. Taft weighed between 300 and 334 pounds. Could there be a connection between presidential girth and national peace?

Few things annoy the head of a business firm more, after he thrifly dries his hands on a single paper towel in the washroom, than seeing the office boy come in and use three or four to perform the same chore. But—that's democracy.

Even more than men, women are likely to judge the desirability of a thing by its price. If beer were to suddenly go to $10 a bottle and champagne fall to a dime a bucket, nine out of ten women would immediately decide they disliked champagne because of its nasty bubbles and preferred beer because it has such lovely foam.

Winter has been too much with us. It sure is a long time between Aprils, isn't it? I'd give a million icicles right now for the sight of one golden dandelion.

Literary Conscience Stirs

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Salem, Oregon — The political spotlight in Oregon is on the Presidential primaries, which, coming after New Hampshire, Wisconsin, and Nebraska, could be a make-or-break affair for specific Republicans and even for Lyndon Johnson's November chances if he fails to do well locally against Eugene McCarthy.

But, at a deeper level, Oregon pinpoints the importance of the local regional issue in the coming November vote. More than Republican Presidential personalities, even more than the issue of Vietnam, the inability of the Johnson Administration to deal with a host of smaller grievances could spell the difference between national victory or defeat. The sum total of the smaller grievances might yet give validity to the slogan that "ABJ" — or "Anybody But Johnson" — could beat LBJ.

In Oregon, as in the Northwest generally, the dependence of the local economy on wood and its products is paramount. High interest rates that spell tightness in the mortgage market, and fewer home building starts, mean trouble for the Administration. Then there is the "logs for Japan" issue, which is agitating local mill owners who can't afford to bid against Tokyo's willingness to go high for purchases of hemlock, cedar, fir, and Sitka spruce logs. No American mill can pay $180 "per thousand" for select spruce and live.

When Oregon's then Governor Mark Hatfield was going against Bob Duncan, who was Lyndon Johnson's "hawkish" choice for the U.S. Senate in 1966, he faced almost certain defeat because of his "dove" sentiments on Vietnam. But Hatfield, in his extremity, suddenly grabbed the ball on the local issue of the impact of the high cost of mortgage money on Oregon employment, forgetting Vietnam for the time being. The local issue put Hatfield in.

The lesson has not been lost on the Oregon and Washington contestants for 1968. Senator Wayne Morse, who will be fighting for his life in the Democratic primary against the same Bob Duncan who almost lost in 1966, is very busy campaigning for a "set aside" of logs for local lumber mills. He can hardly win on this point alone, for every candidate for national or state office in Oregon must take a similar position.

But the point is that, where Morse might satisfy his constituents because of his stand on log exports and on home building interest rates, LBJ must help the Democratic nominee for the Senate out on these issues if he is to win in the Northwest for himself.

But what can LBJ actually do to help Oregon and Washington in the Pacific Northwest on the things that are hurting the local economy? The logs that go to Japan for such high prices from the U.S. Forest Service national timber reserves, and from big timber tract owners such as Weyerhaeuser, are a substantial factor in offsetting our balance-of-payments deficit. Secretary of the Treasury Fowler's interest here cuts directly across the local finishing mill interests. Secretary of State Dean Rusk is involved, too, for if a quota, or a "set aside" system, were used to cut down on Japan's log purchases, it could hurt a foreign policy that depends on keeping the Japanese happy. Negotiations on the "log jam" are about to begin in Tokyo on the very day that this column is being written, but there is no assurance that Japan will favor any agreement that tends to diminish its access to unmill Northwest spruce, fir, and cedar timber even in small degree.

How important all this is to Oregon can be read in certain basic economic statistics. The local forest products industry has consistently employed about half of the manufacturing employees at work in the state. It has accounted for approximately half of the value added to local manufactures. The housing industry of the whole nation is also heavily involved, for almost a fourth of the lumber produced in the U. S. comes from Oregon.

Unemployment in Oregon has been running at a higher rate than in the U. S. as a whole ever since 1965. The major reason is depression in the lumber and plywood industry.

Other regions may have other "small grievances" calculated to hurt LBJ. Instead of worrying unduly over candidates in the primaries, the Republicans would do well to add up the small grievances.

Miss Ruth Ann Brown Marries Dale L. Morris

MR. AND MRS. DALE L. MORRIS

Miss Ruth Ann Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Brown, East Liverpool, became the bride of Dale L. Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morris of Stoutsville, Jan. 12, at 2:30 p. m. in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The Rev. D. Ross Salisbury officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with ferns and flowers. Satin bows marked the family pews. Mrs. Ernest Lowe presented a half-hour recital of organ music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white sheath fashioned with a chiffon overlay. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a fur

Curtain Callers Present Play For League

Child Study Patron League met recently in the home of Mrs. Lois Brobst, 1130 Atwater Ave.

The Curtain Callers of Circleville High School presented "The Pied Piper of Hamelin."

Participating were Holly Bach, Beth Spiers, Beverly Carney, Dennis Hollis and Wesley Jones. The business meeting was opened by Mrs. Brobst. "The Mother's Prayer" was read by Norma Graham.

Ned Harden visited the group in order to make needed changes in the Pumpkin Show Baby Parade. Norma Graham was tentatively named in charge of this year's parade.

The nine members present answered roll call by telling their pet peeves. A sunshine fund was collected and flowers sent to Linda Harden. Several letters from community organizations were read.

The next meeting of the group will be a carry-in supper with husbands as guests.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Is Observed

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Kohler of Laurelville celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Sunday, Feb. 18, with open house at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Merwin McClelland in Laurelville, from 2:30 to 5 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Kohler were married Feb. 19, 1918, at the home of the Rev. W. A. Bates in Lancaster, Ohio. Mrs. Kohler is the former Mary Dumm, daughter of the late George N. and Hattie Karshner Dumm of Laurelville. Mr. Kohler, a native of the Amanda community was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kohler. The couple met when Irvin came to Laurelville to teach school. Since their marriage, he has been associated with the G. N. Dumm store in Laurelville. They are members of the St. John's Lutheran Church in Tarleton. Mr. Kohler is a veteran of World War I.

Mrs. McClelland (Dorothy) is their only child and they have one granddaughter. Miss Mary Rebecca McClelland, a student at Ohio University, Athens.

Calling at the McClelland home on Sunday afternoon to offer congratulations to the honored couple were 130 guests. Hostesses at the serving table were Mrs. Robert Briley, sister of Mrs. Kohler; Mrs. Winifred Dumm, Mrs. Kohler's sister-in-law, and Mrs. Robert West. Others helping were Mrs. Melvin Mettler, Miss Goldie Byers, Miss Pam Kempton and Miss Martha Dumm.

A family dinner, at Pickaway Arms in Circleville, preceded the open house celebration. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Kohler, Mrs. Nell Friend of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Merwin McClelland and Becky, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Briley, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dumm and Martha Jo.

The Kohlers received a number of floral arrangements and potted plants, several gifts and many cards.

Family Dinner Follows Baptism

Miss Lori Ann Troutman, eight week old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Troutman, was baptized Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church of Akron by Pastor Ervin Krebs.

Following the service, the Troutmans were hosts to a family dinner at their home in Uniontown. Attending from Circleville were Mr. and Mrs. Gladden Troutman and Teresa, Mr. and Mrs. George Neff, Terry and Stephen and Miss Sharon DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Paulin of Loudonville and Miss Amy Troutman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Troutman.

Diane Ratcliff Engaged to Lyle Rodeback

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ratcliff, Route 1, Stoutsville, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Diane, to Lyle Gene Rodeback, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rodeback, Route 1, Croton, Ohio.

Miss Ratcliff is a graduate of Amanda-Clearcreek High School and is presently employed as a secretary at Huston Farm Service.

Mr. Rodeback is a graduate of Johnstown Monroe High School and is employed as a technician at Western Electric. The open church wedding will be an event in June.

Guild 6 Meet Held Tuesday

Mrs. Marilyn Brunton was hostess to members of Berger Hospital Guild 6, Tuesday evening in the guild room at the hospital.

The General Guild newsletter was read, and a letter from the local Cancer Society was presented asking for volunteers.

Tickets for the Follies were given to the members to sell. New members were voted in the guild.

A committee consisting of Shirley Wolfe, chairman, Marilyn Brunton, Mary Kay Temple and Jo Ann Wagner was appointed to write the guild by-laws.

Mrs. Brunton served refreshments at the close of the meeting. The travel prize was won by Thelma Pryor.

The next meeting of the group will be in the home of Mrs. Pryor, 417 Edward Road.

Rev. and Mrs. Wiley Baker Feted with Farewell Party

The Rev. and Mrs. Wiley R. Baker were honored with a farewell party by Mr. and Mrs. Judson Price and the children of the Pickaway County Children's Home. Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Glitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Glitt have been interested in the children and go to the home each Saturday evening to practice singing with them for the Sunday morning service at Pontious EUB Church.

During the practices a program was planned and given at the party in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Baker by all the children cooperating in scripture, songs and readings.

Presenting the program were Dweena Strous, Nancy Burgett, Vanda Rutter, Mary Rutter, Diana Strous, Wilma Teets, Patricia Rutter, Nona Rutter, Harold Brown, James McGown, Dale Hamilton, Tom Hamilton, Larry Hamilton, Bill Queen, Junior Thacker, Carl Burgoon, Don Hamilton, Bobby Hamilton, Randy Hamilton, Hank Queen, Charles Thacker and John Murphy.

Rev. and Mrs. Baker received a bedspread from Mr. and Mrs. Price and the children, presented by Dale Hamilton. Lynn Weaver and Patty Rutter presented the couple with an illuminated picture, Sallman's "Head of Christ," given to them by the friends of Pontious EUB Church. Kim Huff presented them with a set of silver given by Mrs. Florence Heffner.

The gymnasium was decorated for the occasion. During the fellowship hour refreshments of punch, coffee, cookies and nuts were served.

Rev. and Mrs. Baker expressed their thanks to the 55 people present, the Charles Holland, Sunday School superintendent and to Mr. and Mrs. Glitt for their hospitality.

Assisting in serving the refreshments were Mrs. Arthur Brooks, Mrs. Mary Ann Wil-

Miss Ruth Ann Brown Marries Dale L. Morris

MR. AND MRS. DALE L. MORRIS

Miss Ruth Ann Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Brown, East Liverpool, became the bride of Dale L. Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morris of Stoutsville, Jan. 12, at 2:30 p. m. in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The Rev. D. Ross Salisbury officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with ferns and flowers. Satin bows marked the family pews. Mrs. Ernest Lowe presented a half-hour recital of organ music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white sheath fashioned with a chiffon overlay. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a fur pillbox. She carried an arrangement of red roses and white sat in streamers placed on a white fur muff.

Miss Rebecca J. Allison, maid of honor, wore a blue taffeta dress, designed with detachable skirt and a matching Dior headpiece with illusion veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations tipped in blue.

Howard E. Wilson served as best man.

The mother of the bride chose a beige sheath with brown accessories and white carnation corsage. Mrs. Ray Brooks, grandmother of the bride, was attired in black velvet with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks. The buffet table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Hostesses were Mrs. David Stacey, Mrs. Robert Duffy, Mrs. Margaret Brown, Mrs. Howard Wilson and Mrs. Helen Schell.

The bride was graduated from East Liverpool High School and was formerly employed at the Pottery Bank and Trust Co., East Liverpool.

Mr. Morris is a graduate of Teays Valley High School and served three years in the U. S. Army. He is a laboratory technician at the Battelle Memorial Institute in Columbus, where the newlyweds are residing at 1076 Neil Ave.

Curtain Callers Present Play For League

Child Study Patron League met recently in the home of Mrs. Lois Brobst, 1130 Atwater Ave.

The Curtain Callers of Circleville High School presented "The Pied Piper of Hamelin." Participating were Holly Bach, Beth Spires, Beverly Carney, Dennis Hollis and Wesley Jones.

The business meeting was opened by Mrs. Brobst. "The Mother's Prayer" was read by Norma Graham.

Ned Harden visited the group in order to make needed changes in the Pumpkin Show Baby Parade. Norma Graham was tentatively named in charge of this year's parade.

The nine members present answered roll call by telling their pet peeves. A sunshine fund was collected and flowers sent to Linda Harden. Several letters from community organizations were read.

The next meeting of the group will be a carry-in supper with husbands as guests.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

GATE CRASHER DEAD—One of the world's most successful and widely publicized gate crashers, Stan Berman, 41, a bachelor, died of a lingering bloodstream infection in New York. ### Golden Wedding Anniversary Is Observed

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Kohler of Laurelville celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Sunday, Feb. 18, with open house at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Merwin McClelland in Laurelville, from 2:30 to 5 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Kohler were married Feb. 13, 1918, at the home of the Rev. W. A. Bates in Lancaster, Ohio. Mrs. Kohler is the former Mary Dumm, daughter of the late George N. and Hattie Karshner Dumm of Laurelville. Mr. Kohler, a native of the Amanda community was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kohler. The couple met when Irvin came to Laurelville to teach school. Since their marriage, he has been associated with the G. N. Dumm store in Laurelville. They are members of the St. John's Lutheran Church in Tarlton. Mr. Kohler is a veteran of World War I.

Mrs. McClelland (Dorothy) is their only child and they have one granddaughter, Miss Mary Rebecca McClelland, a student at Ohio University, Athens.

Calling at the McClelland home on Sunday afternoon to offer congratulations to the honored couple were 130 guests. Hostesses at the serving table were, Mrs. Robert Briley, sister of Mrs. Kohler; Mrs. Winifred Dumm, Mrs. Kohler's sister-in-law, and Mrs. Robert West. Others helping were Mrs. Melvin Mettler, Miss Goldie Byers, Miss Pam Kempton and Miss Martha Dumm.

A family dinner, at Pickaway Arms in Circleville, preceded the open house celebration. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Kohler, Mrs. Nell Friend of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Merwin McClelland and Becky, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Briley, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dumm and Martha Jo.

The Kohlers received a number of floral arrangements and potted plants, several gifts and many cards.

Family Dinner Follows Baptism

Miss Lori Ann Troutman, eight week old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Troutman, was baptized Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church of Akron by Pastor Ervin Krebs.

Following the service, the Troutmans were hosts to a family dinner at their home in Uniontown. Attending from Circleville were Mr. and Mrs. Gladson Troutman and Teresa, Mr. and Mrs. George Neff, Terry and Stephen and Miss Sharon DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Paulin of Loudonville and Miss Amy Troutman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Troutman.

Rev. and Mrs. Wiley Baker Feted with Farewell Party

The Rev. and Mrs. Wiley R. Baker were honored with a farewell party by Mr. and Mrs. Judson Price and the children of the Pickaway County Children's Home. Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Glitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Glitt have been interested in the children and go to the home each Saturday evening to practice singing with them for the Sunday morning service at Pontious EUB Church.

During the practices a program was planned and given at the party in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Baker by all the children cooperating in scripture, songs and readings.

Presenting the program were Dweena Strous, Nancy Burgett, Vanda Rutter, Mary Rutter, Diana Strous, Wilma Teets, Patricia Rutter, Nona Rutter, Harold Brown, James McGown, Dale Hamilton, Tom Hamilton, Larry Hamilton, Bill Queen, Junior Thacker, Carl Burgoon, Don Hamilton, Bobby Hamilton, Randy Hamilton, Hank Queen, Charles Thacker and John Murphy.

Rev. and Mrs. Baker received a bedspread from Mr. and Mrs. Price and the children, presented by Dale Hamilton. Lynn Weaver and Patty Rutter presented the couple with an illuminated picture, Sallman's "Head of Christ," given to them by the friends of Pontious EUB Church. Kim Huff presented them with a set of silver given by Mrs. Florence Heffner.

The gymnasium was decorated for the occasion. During the fellowship hour refreshments of punch, coffee, cookies and nuts were served.

Rev. and Mrs. Baker expressed their thanks to the 55 people present, the Charles Holland, Sunday School superintendent and to Mr. and Mrs. Glitt for their hospitality.

Assisting in serving the refreshments were Mrs. Arthur Brooks, Mrs. Mary Ann Wil-

Cincy Plane Crash Probe In 2nd Day

Controller Admits
Jet Not Given
Altimeter Reading

CINCINNATI (AP) — A four-man panel of the National Transportation Safety Board was set to wade through more testimony today in the probe of a recent jet passenger plane crash.

Testimony today is expected to revolve around altimetry in the investigation seeking why a Trans World Airlines jet crashed on approach to Greater Cincinnati Airport, claiming 70 lives.

Twelve persons appeared before the panel Tuesday in the first day of the hearing.

The altimetry question arose after B. J. Bowers, a radar approach controller at the airport, admitted he did not follow the usual procedure in giving the TWA flight the altimeter delivery reading.

Bowers, controller with the Federal Aviation Administration, said he overlooked relaying the then-current altimeter setting to the jet.

That was when initial contact was made with the plane at 8:58 p.m. — Nov. 20 just about eight minutes before it crashed — while the jet was 34 miles northeast of the airport, Bowers said.

But he said he did give a reading to an American Airlines flight that was coming in about the same time and it was possible the TWA crew heard that transmission.

Bernal Meador, TWA vice president in charge of engineering, said that some changes had been made in the equipment available on the TWA flight 128, but denied they would have any significant effect on instrument readings.

He testified that certain altimeters on TWA planes had been modified to provide closer readings, but the altimeter on the crash plane was an unmodified instrument.

Leap Year Means Little to Many

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Single men who dream of being pursued and caught by a rich, famous, beautiful and talented woman this Leap Year might just as well wake up.

At least eight American women who largely answer to this description not only are not going to do any man chasing, they don't intend to be caught, not this year anyway.

Though the current demand for single men is much more than the supply it takes more than mere eligibility to attract the likes of Joey Heatherton, Lesley Gore, Inger Stevens, Patricia McBride, Hedda MacRae, Marlo Thomas, Cathy MacCauley, or Trenny Robb.

Indeed, most are quite happy to be single for the present, though "it helps to be in love," says Hedda MacRae, daughter of stage and screen stars Sheila and Gordon MacRae.

"Marriage is a ridiculous tribal rite," says 21-year old Cathy MacCauley, Cora Products heiress, party giver and pop celebrity. Besides she does not like children, "only flower children," she says.

Though most of the celebrated single girls are too busy with their careers to consider marriage at the moment, they like men with masculinity, strength, a sense of humor, respect for women and high intelligence as the eventual life partner.

Neither looks for money figures in their ideal man.

"He can take me to inexpensive places, I don't care," said Trenny Robb, who won fame overnight as a fashion model after wowing Washington at the

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Clergymen: Please Come to the Rescue

DEAR ABBY: When we have a priest to dinner, as we frequently do, we always ask him to say the blessings before the meals. Now, after much thought on the subject, we are wondering if this isn't a little presumptuous of us.

I don't want to disrupt tradition, but I would like to know how priests, ministers, and rabbis feel about this?

Should the host say the blessing at his own table as he always does even when a clergyman is present? Or out of courtesy to the clergyman, should he be offered the opportunity to say the grace?

I guess what I really want to know is this: How does the clergyman feel about this? Does he resent being "put to work" by being asked to say the blessing when he is a guest? Or would he feel slighted if the man of the house treated him as any other guest, and said the blessing himself?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Here's a letter for priests, ministers, and rabbis to answer. I'll publish their replies because I'm sure that many other readers are also puzzled.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is an age old one. My husband and I are in our early forties, and up to now I have always thought we had a good marriage. (WE HAVE FIVE WONDERFUL CHILDREN.)

Recently while going thru his pants pockets before sending his suit to the cleaners, I came across a half-finished letter he had written to some woman. In it he thanked God for giving him such a person to love. My world came crashing down. I knew something was not quite right, but I put it down to job pressure.

I have thought of committing suicide, but who will take care of my children?

I pray my husband will soon come to his senses before our lives are ruined. Please print this letter, Abby. He may read it and realize what he is doing to all of us.

HEART SICK IN HAWAII
DEAR HEARTSICK: And what if he doesn't see it? The only solution to your problem is to tell your husband you saw that letter. The next move will be his.

DEAR ABBY: The 15-year-old girl who was "in trouble" could have been my "twin." The only difference between us was that I listened to my mother (for once in my life) and decided to go to a home for unwed mothers and give the baby up for adoption.

During my pregnancy I had lots of time to think. I learned a lot about life as it really is, not the way it's pictured in books and magazines, and from the junk you see on TV and in the movies, and hear on records. I acquired a good answer of morals—something I never had before. While a new life grew inside me, a new and better ME grew, too.

I am 17, back in school and plan on going on to college. I am going with a very nice boy now. We like each other a lot, but I keep our relations restricted.

I hope that girl listens to you and her mother, Abby. This is not the end of the world for her. It is only the beginning and she can make it beautiful if she tries. Thank you for letting me say this.

BEEN THERE AND BACK

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote in complaining because she attended a golden wedding reception and was served home-baked cake instead of the beautiful baker's creation on the buffet table.

I'll bet that cake was one of those plastic beauties they rent out for centerpieces. I once saw a woman try to scrape a bit of "frosting" off one of those cakes with her finger. Boy, was she surprised!

Cincy Plane Crash Probe In 2nd Day

Jet Not Given
Altimeter Reading

CINCINNATI (AP) — A four-man panel of the National Transportation Safety Board was set to wade through more testimony today in the probe of a recent jet passenger plane crash.

Testimony today is expected to revolve around altimeter in the investigation seeking why a Trans World Airlines jet crashed on approach to Greater Cincinnati Airport, claiming 70 lives.

Twelve persons appeared before the panel Tuesday in the first day of the hearing.

The altimetry question arose after B. J. Bowers, a radar approach controller at the airport, admitted he did not follow the usual procedure in giving the TWA flight the altimeter delivery reading.

Bowers, controller with the Federal Aviation Administration, said he overlooked relaying the then-current altimeter setting to the jet.

That was when initial contact was made with the plane at 8:58 p.m. — Nov. 20 just about eight minutes before it crashed — while the jet was 34 miles northeast of the airport, Bowers said.

But he said he did give a reading to an American Airlines flight that was coming in about the same time and it was possible the TWA crew heard that transmission.

Bernal Meador, TWA vice president in charge of engineering, said that some changes had been made in the equipment available on the TWA flight 128, but denied they would have any significant effect on instrument readings.

He testified that certain altimeters on TWA planes had been modified to provide closer readings, but the altimeter on the crash plane was an unmodified instrument.

Leap Year Means Little to Many

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Single men who dream of being pursued and caught by a rich, famous, beautiful and talented woman this Leap Year might just as well wake up.

At least eight American women who largely answer to this description not only are not going to do any man chasing, they don't intend to be caught, not this year anyway.

Though the current demand for single men is much more than the supply it takes more than mere eligibility to attract the likes of Joey Heatherton, Lesley Gore, Inger Stevens, Patricia McBride, Hedda MacRae, Marlo Thomas, Cathy MacCauley, or Trenny Robb.

Indeed, most are quite happy to be single for the present, though "it helps to be in love," says Hedda MacRae, daughter of stage and screen stars Sheila and Gordon MacRae.

"Marriage is a ridiculous ritual," says 21-year old Cathy MacCauley, Corn Products heir, party giver and pop celebrity. Besides she does not like children, "only flower children," she says.

Though most of the celebrated single girls are too busy with their careers to consider marriage at the moment, they like men with masculinity, strength, a sense of humor, respect for women and high intelligence as the eventual life partner.

Neither looks for money figures in their ideal man.

"He can take me to inexpensive places, I don't care," said Trenny Robb, who won fame overnight as a fashion model after wowing Washington at the

Dear Abby:

Clergymen: Please Come to the Rescue

DEAR ABBY: When we have a priest to dinner, as we frequently do, we always ask him to say the blessings before the meals. Now, after much thought on the subject, we are wondering if this isn't a little presumptuous of us.

I don't want to disrupt tradition, but I would like to know how priests, ministers, and rabbis feel about this?

Should the host say the blessing at his own table as he always does even when a clergyman is present? Or out of courtesy to the clergyman, should he be offered the opportunity to say the grace?

I guess what I really want to know is this: How does the clergyman feel about this? Does he resent being "put to work" by being asked to say the blessing when he is a guest? Or would he feel slighted if the man of the house treated him as any other guest, and said the blessing himself?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Here's a letter for priests, ministers, and rabbis to answer. I'll publish their replies because I'm sure that many other readers are also puzzled.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is an age old one. My husband and I are in our early forties, and up to now I have always thought we had a good marriage. (WE HAVE FIVE WONDERFUL CHILDREN.)

Recently while going thru his pants pockets before sending his suit to the cleaners, I came across a half-finished letter he had written to some woman. In it he thanked God for giving him such a person to love. My world came crashing down. I knew something was not quite right, but I put it down to job pressure.

I have thought of committing suicide, but who will take care of my children?

I pray my husband will soon come to his senses before our lives are ruined. Please print this letter, Abby. He may read it and realize what he is doing to all of us.

HEART SICK IN HAWAII
DEAR HEARTSICK: And what if he doesn't see it? The only solution to your problem is to tell your husband you saw that letter. The next move will be his.

DEAR ABBY: The 15-year-old girl who was "in trouble" could have been my "twin." The only difference between us was that I listened to my mother (for once in my life) and decided to go to a home for unwed mothers and give the baby up for adoption.

During my pregnancy I had lots of time to think. I learned a lot about life as it really is, not the way it's pictured in books and magazines, and from the junk you see on TV and in the movies, and hear on records. I acquired a good answer of morals—something I never had before. While a new life grew inside me, a new and better ME grew, too.

I am 17, back in school and plan on going on to college. I am going with a very nice boy now. We like each other a lot, but I keep our relations restricted.

I hope that girl listens to you and her mother, Abby. This is not the end of the world for her. It is only the beginning and she can make it beautiful if she tries. Thank you for letting me say this.

BEEN THERE AND BACK

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote in complaining because she attended a golden wedding reception and was served home-baked cake instead of the beautiful baker's creation on the buffet table.

I'll bet that cake was one of those plastic beauties they rent out for centerpieces. I once saw a woman try to scrape a bit of "frosting" off one of those cakes with her finger. Boy, was she surprised!

South Viet Government Frustrates U.S. Peace Hopes

EDITOR'S NOTE—What is the outlook in South Vietnam, a month after the Communists began their attacks on the cities?

By WILLIAM L. RYAN and PETER ARNETT

SAIGON (AP)—Never in the years of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, officials say, has there been so much openly expressed worry and wonder about what lies immediately ahead.

The Americans still hold that U.S. forces cannot be defeated militarily. The Americans also say—often gloomily—that the need was never greater than now for the Saigon government to face up to its problems and its dangers.

One of the biggest problems is how to rally South Vietnam's people solidly behind the anti-Communist cause. Another is corruption, whose continued existence helps erode popular confidence in the government.

What has happened in the past month has produced a feeling among some Americans here that it's now or never for the South Vietnamese government.

South Vietnam has gone through a convulsion following what one high U.S. official on the scene now concedes was a "beautifully executed" offensive against 40 major population centers.

The worry and the wondering revolve about taking South Vietnam out of its state of shock, about repairing the heavy physical and psychological damage which has been done, about rebuilding confidence—and most of all about establishing a meaningful dialogue between the Americans here and the army and government of South Vietnam.

The obstacles include a tangled complex of military, political, economic and emotional difficulties.

The big fear is that these difficulties will progressively weaken the internal political structure in South Vietnam. That in turn would have impact on the strategy of Gen. William C. Westmoreland for defeating Communist aims and establishing a government in Saigon which can stand on its own feet.

Few Americans here try to hide forebodings generated by critical situations in the military, political, economic and pacification fields. The Tet—lunar new year—offensive not only has brought into sharp focus the realities facing a country torn by war and political dissension for years, but has illuminated a gap in communication between the Americans and the South Vietnamese government.

One top-level U.S. official who has been here for years exploded in exasperation recently during a conversation with an equally high Vietnamese over government actions on the internal political scene.

These actions, the U.S. official intimated, would do further violence to the image of the Saigon regime, in the United States as well as at home.

Later, the American was asked: Why didn't the United States put more pressure on its ally?

"They are a sovereign nation," was the reply. Moreover, he added, there is an attitude among South Vietnamese leaders that the United States has no choice but to continue fighting this war.

But what of the arrests of members of the non-Communist political opposition, which could give the Saigon regime a black eye in the United States?

"They'll ask you," said the American, "What did you do with the rioters in Detroit? Didn't you arrest them, too?"

Open criticism of American actions and policy appears in the local press, obviously with government approval. For example, the Saigon Daily News recently spoke of rumors that the United States was collaborating secretly with the Viet Cong to force a coalition government. These rumors, it said, "are based on the apparent reluctance of the Americans to fully commit themselves to fighting the Communist attackers from the very start. The U.S. military performance in Saigon and Hue in the first days following the attacks tends to give substance to such belief."

In fact, the Americans had hoped the South Vietnamese army and police could defend their own capital. As for Hue, more than 100 U.S. troops have died taking it back from the Communists.

This sort of press comment could not appear without government approval. The Saigon press is rigidly censored. The tone suggests a suspicion that some day the Americans will deal with the Communists and leave the Saigon regime out in the cold.

One American described the current situation: "It's like painstakingly placing a piece in a complicated jigsaw puzzle. No sooner do you get it placed than a previous piece falls out. That is the American experience in Vietnam."

For Vietnamese politicians across the spectrum these are nervous days. All manner of rumors float around this grimy city. About 20 non-Communist opponents of the government have been arrested. Most are suspected of connections with proponents of coalition as a way out of the war.

The arrests spotlight the misgivings held by the generals who run the government. Hints in the press, such as a Saigon Daily News complaint that Americans "meddle" too much in Vietnam's internal affairs, reflect a suspicion that the United States is actively interested in a coalition.

President Nguyen Van Thieu and his supporters say they will never stand for participation by the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front in the government.

There are many indications that President Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky are feuding. One well informed source says the two have not been on speaking terms since President Johnson's visit to South Vietnam in December.

This same source says that former generals now involved in politics are forming alliances with neutralist elements on the civilian side.

Two men prominently mentioned in this respect are Tran Van Don, chairman of a group called the National Salvation Committee, and Ton That Dinh, who as a general had a part in the 1963 overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem. Some sources connect Ky with this group.

Thieu and his supporters suspect anything labeled "front." They suspect any political move which might lessen their authority.

The mixture is a yeasty one that complicates American efforts to bring about some unity of purpose here.

On the surface, South Vietnam has a constitutional government elected last September. Underneath, it retains the trappings of a military regime jealous of its authority and prone to crack down on any trace of opposition.

Americans say a great opportunity existed after the shock of the Viet Cong Tet offensive created an impulse among politicians to seek national salvation through unity. These Americans were dismayed when the government jailed non-Communist opponents. They felt the timing hardly could have been worse.

"One more political upheaval

—one more coup—is all we need around here," one American said, mindful of a history of violent political upheavals over the past five years.

But the chief American worry is the mood of this capital, and how events seem to feed on atmosphere of frustration and foreboding.

Bill Would Let Ohio Sell Land Held in State Trust

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill authorizing Ohio to remove "archaic" restrictions on the sale of certain lands that were set aside in the 18th Century for religious and educational purposes has been approved by a House interior subcommittee.

The bill would authorize the state to use proceeds from the sale of the lands for educational purposes.

Ohio is the only state to have been congressionally required to set aside lands for the support of religion. This occurred in frontier days when Ohio was part of the Northwest Territory. Congress passed laws requiring that in each township, one section be set aside for educational purposes and one section for religious purposes.

The care of those lands was in the hands of the federal government until 1803, when Ohio became a state and the lands were given in trust to the Ohio General Assembly. Later, congress passed legislation giving Ohio permission to sell these lands and happily the proceeds for educational and religious purposes.

But Ohio officials say that the cumbersome restrictions placed on the sale of lands now make such sale impractical.

State Auditor Roger Cloud testified before the subcommittee that Ohio's subsequent growth has caused the lands and funds to become an unrealistic and costly system of school support and requires the support of religious societies "in a way now deemed unconstitutional."

The bill is sponsored by 22 members of Ohio's House delegation.

Cloud said "most of these lands were sold over a century ago for very low sums." He said that about 5,480 acres remain unsold.

The Interior Department in supporting the bill said it would give authority to the Ohio Legislature to use the proceeds from the sale of these lands for education purposes instead of for the support of religion.

These actions, the U.S. official intimated, would do further violence to the image of the Saigon regime, in the United States as well as at home.

Later, the American was asked: Why didn't the United States put more pressure on its ally?

"They are a sovereign nation," was the reply. Moreover, he added, there is an attitude among South Vietnamese leaders that the United States has no choice but to continue fighting this war.

But what of the arrests of members of the non-Communist political opposition, which could give the Saigon regime a black eye in the United States?

"They'll ask you," said the American, "What did you do with the rioters in Detroit? Didn't you arrest them, too?"

Open criticism of American actions and policy appears in the local press, obviously with government approval. For example, the Saigon Daily News recently spoke of rumors that the United States was collaborating secretly with the Viet Cong to force a coalition government. These rumors, it said, "are based on the apparent reluctance of the Americans to fully commit themselves to fighting the Communist attackers from the very start. The U.S. military performance in Saigon and Hue in the first days following the attacks tends to give substance to such belief."

In fact, the Americans had hoped the South Vietnamese army and police could defend their own capital. As for Hue, more than 100 U.S. troops have died taking it back from the Communists.

This sort of press comment could not appear without government approval. The Saigon press is rigidly censored. The tone suggests a suspicion that some day the Americans will deal with the Communists and leave the Saigon regime out in the cold.

One American described the current situation: "It's like painstakingly placing a piece in a complicated jigsaw puzzle. No sooner do you get it placed than a previous piece falls out. That is the American experience in Vietnam."

For Vietnamese politicians across the spectrum these are nervous days. All manner of rumors float around this grimy city. About 20 non-Communist opponents of the government have been arrested. Most are suspected of connections with proponents of coalition as a way out of the war.

The arrests spotlight the misgivings held by the generals who run the government. Hints in the press, such as a Saigon Daily News complaint that Americans "meddle" too much in Vietnam's internal affairs, reflect a suspicion that the United States is actively interested in a coalition.

President Nguyen Van Thieu and his supporters say they will never stand for participation by the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front in the government.

There are many indications that President Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky are feuding. One well informed source says the two have not been on speaking terms since President Johnson's visit to South Vietnam in December.

This same source says that former generals now involved in politics are forming alliances with neutralist elements on the civilian side.

Two men prominently mentioned in this respect are Tran Van Don, chairman of a group called the National Salvation Committee, and Ton That Dinh, who as a general had a part in the 1963 overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem. Some sources connect Ky with this group.

Thieu and his supporters suspect anything labeled "front." They suspect any political move which might lessen their authority.

The mixture is a yeasty one that complicates American efforts to bring about some unity of purpose here.

On the surface, South Vietnam has a constitutional government elected last September. Underneath, it retains the trappings of a military regime jealous of its authority and prone to crack down on any trace of opposition.

Americans say a great opportunity existed after the shock of the Viet Cong Tet offensive created an impulse among politicians to seek national salvation through unity. These Americans were dismayed when the government jailed non-Communist opponents. They felt the timing hardly could have been worse.

"One more political upheaval

—one more coup—is all we need around here," one American said, mindful of a history of violent political upheavals over the past five years.

But the chief American worry is the mood of this capital, and how events seem to feed on a atmosphere of frustration and foreboding.

Bill Would Let Ohio Sell Land Held in State Trust

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill authorizing Ohio to remove "archaic" restrictions on the sale of certain lands that were set aside in the 18th Century for religious and educational purposes has been approved by a House interior subcommittee.

The bill would authorize the state to use proceeds from the sale of the lands for educational purposes.

Ohio is the only state to have been congressionally required to set aside lands for the support of religion. This occurred in frontier days when Ohio was part of the Northwest Territory.

Congress passed laws requiring that in each township, one section be set aside for educational purposes and one section for religious purposes.

The care of those lands was in the hands of the federal government until 1803, when Ohio became a state and the lands were given in trust to the Ohio General Assembly. Later, congress passed legislation giving Ohio permission to sell these lands and happily the proceeds for educational and religious purposes.

But Ohio officials say that the cumbersome restrictions placed on the sale of lands now make such sale impractical.

State Auditor Roger Cloud testified before the subcommittee that Ohio's subsequent growth has caused the lands and funds to become an unrealistic and costly system of school support and requires the support of religious societies "in a way now deemed unconstitutional."

The bill is sponsored by 22 members of Ohio's House delegation.

Cloud said "most of these lands were sold over a century ago for very low sums." He said that about 5,480 acres remain unsold.

The Interior Department in supporting the bill said it would give authority to the Ohio Legislature to use the proceeds from the sale of these lands for education purposes instead of for the support of religion.

One top-level U.S. official who has been here for years exploded in exasperation recently during a conversation with an equally high Vietnamese over government actions on the internal political scene.

These actions, the U.S. official intimated, would do further violence to the image of the Saigon regime, in the United States as well as at home.

Later, the American was asked: Why didn't the United States put more pressure on its ally?

"They are a sovereign nation," was the reply. Moreover, he added, there is an attitude among South Vietnamese leaders that the United States has no choice but to continue fighting this war.

But what of the arrests of members of the non-Communist political opposition, which could give the Saigon regime a black eye in the United States?

NEW YORK (AP) — Once a year Red Skelton treats the television audience to a one-man show in which the performer does what he does best—pantomime. His Tuesday night CBS hour for this season was a taped program of a pantomime performance he recently gave on a New York stage for an audience drawn from the United Nations.

Skelton, a master of the silent art, was by turns funny and sad, gay and wistful, staggeringly drunk and shaking with old age. He moved from one characterization to another with ease, used few props in most of his sketches and delighted his audience.

Although there were announcers on hand to give the names of Skelton's numbers—"A Girl Dressing in the Morning," "Man at a Drive-in Movie"—in English and French—the veteran clown had no problems of communication with anybody.

One of the most moving of his sketches was an old man watching a parade. And he apparently can not resist slapstick. Perhaps the least effective number in the show was the one in which he had some help playing a raffish old man conducting a courtship with the agile little old lady next door.

Later Walter Cronkite appeared in a half-hour program giving a report on his observations during a recent visit to Vietnam.

The first part of the program was a sort of illustrated briefing on the Tet offensive by the North Vietnamese, some interviews with military men and experts, with emphasis on the breakdown of the pacification program. Most interesting was the conclusion when Cronkite presented his "personal, subjective" thoughts about the situation. His impression, generally, is that the conflict is mired in stalemate, that the character of the conflict has changed now that the North Vietnamese have switched from guerrilla tactics to "a more Western style of war."

It was not an optimistic report.

the Senate minority leader, in the November election.

Samuel H. Shapiro, lieutenant governor under Gov. Otto Kerner, who is not seeking a third term, had backed Shapiro as his successor.

port, and Cronkite gave it in cautious language.

NBC, announcing what it called "a firm schedule" for next season, says it has included a half-hour comedy-drama series starring Diahann Carroll, the Negro singing star of Broadway's "No Strings," and frequently a TV variety performer. The program is called "Julia."

The network also said that the variety show it has planned for late Sunday nights starting in September will be hosted by Phyllis Diller. The comedienne will work with guest stars.

Other new programs scheduled include "Adam 12," a police series; "The Outsider," a private-eye show; "The Name of the Game," action-adventure; "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," comedy.

Recommended tonight: "Present Laughter," ABC, 9-11 EST, adaptation of Noel Coward's 25-year-old comedy, with Peter O'Toole and Honor Blackman.

Pancake Day Plans Mapped By Sertoma

The Circleville Sertoma Club mapped plans for the second annual Pancake Supper during a meeting held Monday at South Central REA.

Bob Holycross has appointed committee chairman Roger Thomas, Bud Hritz, Bob Reed, Bruce Stevenson, Ward Skinner, Bill Davis and Dave Sealock.

Funds from the supper will go into the Sertoma Scholarship fund. The organization gives a scholarship to a trade school to one student from each of the high schools in the county.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Former Garfield Heights Mayor Donald O. Cameron pulled out of the Democratic primary in the 21st congressional district Monday, leaving 19 others in the field.

Economizers, Art Lovers Clash; Art Lovers Lose

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economizers and art lovers have clashed in the first congressional budget fight of the year and not even Ralph Waldo Emerson could help the embattled forces of culture.

The House rejected Tuesday night a proposed two-year authorization of $135 million for the arts and humanities, voting instead for a one-year program at $11.2 million.

Seeking a big expansion in the three-year-old program, the bill's backers cited Emerson's words: "The true test of civilization is not the census, nor the size of cities, nor the crops—no, but the kind of man the country turns out."

They had in mind the man who cultivates the garden of the mind as well as tills the soil. But the words were used against them by Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the Appropriations Committee.

Arguing the nation's fiscal situation could not stand any increases over current spending levels for such programs, Mahon also cited Emerson's words and then declared:

"Are we going to turn out men who go from year to year into the red, refusing to pay the debts they incur?"

Mahon's interpretation of Emerson was resoundingly approved by the House and the reduction was voted 261 to 130. The bill was then passed and sent to the Senate.

President Johnson had asked for an increase to $20 million in the program but the Education and Labor Committee called for a major expansion. The money is divided between an endowment for the arts and one for the humanities.

Illinois Demos Name Slate: Adlai Stevenson III Out

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois Democrats have launched their 1968 campaign without Adlai E. Stevenson III, and some party leaders denied implications that Stevenson was finished politically.

Stevenson, 37, had been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor or the U.S. Senate, but was left off the ticket by party leaders after he refused to pledge complete support of President Johnson's Vietnam policy.

"Whatever he may have lost with the professional politicians," State Rep. Anthony Scariano said of Stevenson, "he gained with the people who go to the voting booths."

Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, who headed the subcommittee that drew up the Illinois Democrats' 1968 election lineup Tuesday, was asked if he thought Stevenson was dead politically because he had been passed over.

"He's got two more years to serve as state treasurer," Daley replied. "He told the committee members he would enthusiastically support the party ticket and I know he will."

"His future is in the hands of the State Democratic party," Daley said.

Stevenson, 37, son of the late two-time nominee for president, told party leaders Friday he could not pledge in advance his support of Johnson's Vietnam policy. Then in Chicago Monday night he said he clarified but did not change his position.

Daley said, after an informal meeting with Stevenson:

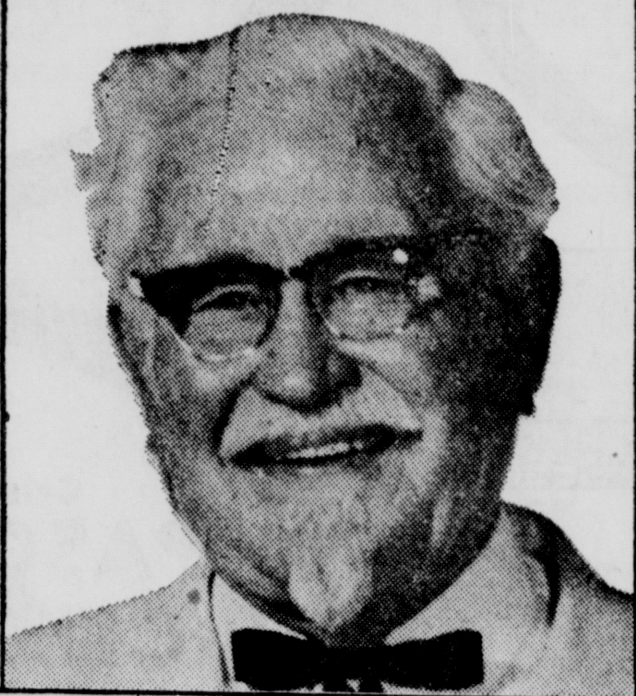

"We all like to hear a man speak out on his convictions and principles, but at the same time, you must understand that when you're running on a ticket, you're running with a team."

Sargent Shriver, head of the federal anti-poverty program, also was left off the ticket after he did not appear before the slatemakers. Shriver's name had been advanced for both governor and U.S. senator.

Atty. Gen. William G. Clark of Illinois received the Senate endorsement for the June 11 primary and a chance to challenge Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill.,

South African Policy: More White Babies

National Debt Sets Record

Total Feb. 21
$352 Billion
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department said today the federal debt exceeded $350 billion for the first time in history the day before Washington's birthday.

In its daily summary of income and outgo, the department fixed the exact level of the gross federal debt at $352,546,363,116.57 as of Feb. 21.

On that day, the department put on its books the $4.25 billion in new cash it borrowed this month. This raised both the cash balance and the gross debt an equal amount.

The total debt subject to the $358 billion debt ceiling fixed last year by Congress is about $2 billion higher than the gross debt because the government must now include sales of participation certificates under the ceiling.

Thus far in the fiscal year, the government has sold $2.25 billion of the certificates, which are much like bonds and are backed by pools of government-owned loans and mortgages.

Other items totaling $260 million are part of the gross debt but are not subject to the ceiling. This leaves the total subject to the ceiling at $354,536,166,676.35 as of Feb. 21.

Price Hike On Trucks Set by Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. announced today a 5.9 per cent price increase in its new model Econoline vans and Club wagons to be introduced March 15. Ford said the average boost is $139.

Lynn Townsend, Chrysler Corp. chairman, had been quoted earlier by The Wall Street Journal as indicating in an interview his company is considering a price increase in 1969 model automobiles.

Townsend put the blame on a tightening profit squeeze, caused by rising labor and material costs.

Ford did the same thing in announcing increases for its Econoline vans and wagons, but also said the new models are bigger, better, safer, more comfortable and more convenient than current models.

The new vans and wagons, the latter a miniature bus in effect, are being designated 1969 models by Ford. A Ford spokesman said there will be no changes in the fall.

ble-barreled aim of South Africa's government.

This country's 3.6 million whites are outnumbered by 12.7 million Africans—officially termed Bantu. There also are 1.8 million persons of mixed blood, designed as colored, and 486,000 Asians.

Only 19 per cent of South Africa's population is white. If present trends continue whites will be down to 14 per cent of the total at the turn of the century and outnumbered 6 to 1 by nonwhites.

"Unless white couples give up birth control and restore the Afrikaner tradition of big families, white South Africa will commit suicide," said a memo submitted by an Afrikaners group to Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster.

Afrikaners are mostly of Dutch and French Huguenot stock descended from Boer pioneers who settled the interior of what is now South Africa. The ruling nationalist party, which has been in power 20 years, draws most of its support from Afrikaners.

"Our church and cultural leaders should also encourage people to have bigger families. Independently, we must warn all childless couples of the dangers of birth control," the memo from the Federal Council of Afrikaners Coordinating Committees said. The council has also urged subsidies for Afrikaner parents.

It is not the first time white South Africans have been urged to breed for their nation. The minister of Bantu administration, Michiel Botha, stirred controversy in 1965 when he proposed that all white couples have a baby to celebrate the country's fifth anniversary as a republic.

The birth rate indicates few whites followed his suggestion.

With appeals for larger white families being ignored, officials are increasingly turning toward control of the black birth rate.

In some quarters in South Africa the birth rates are viewed as a danger that whites will eventually be overwhelmed by nonwhites. This fear is seldom publicly expressed in political terms. Officials almost always cite economic reasons for controlling black births.

Andries H. Vosloo, deputy minister of Bantu development, called for family planning among Africans in December. Blacks would have to understand, Vosloo said, that their present income, unlimited family growth would only cause "poverty and distress" among blacks.

An editorial in the Johannesburg Star rejected this argument and warned: "It is no use telling Africans that if they only had fewer children their standard of living would improve. This cuts no ice among the very poor because to them children are their only asset. The thing that does promote family planning, either consciously or subconsciously, is first to raise the standard of living, whereupon the birth rate always drops of its own."

Economically, population trends promise to increase the importance of nonwhite purchasing power and continue the present dependence on white labor in many growing industries.

In the past six years the white population increased by 500,000, including immigration, while the number of blacks grew by more than 1.6 million. The birth rate of coloreds also exceeds that of whites.

National Debt Sets Record

Total Feb. 21
$352 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department said today the federal debt exceeded $350 billion for the first time in history the day before Washington's birthday.

In its daily summary of income and outgo, the department fixed the exact level of the gross federal debt at $352,546,363,116.57 as of Feb. 21.

On that day, the department put on its books the $4.25 billion in new cash it borrowed this month. This raised both the cash balance and the gross debt an equal amount.

The total debt subject to the $353 billion debt ceiling fired last year by Congress is about $2 billion higher than the gross debt because the government must now include sales of participation certificates under the ceiling.

Thus far in the fiscal year, the government has sold $2.25 billion of the certificates, which are much like bonds and are backed by pools of government-owned loans and mortgages.

Other items totaling $260 million are part of the gross debt but are not subject to the ceiling. This leaves the total subject to the ceiling at $354,536,166,676.35 as of Feb. 21.

Five Points News

By Mrs. Francis Furniss

There were 67 present at the Five Points Methodist Sunday School Sunday morning. Worship service followed. The Official Board Meeting was held Monday evening in the church basement. Our Bible Study during Lent will begin next Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Derby Church. The Book of Acts will be our subject.

The Five Points Methodist Social Hour Club held its February meeting Friday evening in the church basement with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter as hostesses. The president, Mrs. Elbee Jones opened the meeting with scripture reading, Mrs. Francis Furniss, secretary, called the roll and gave the report of the last meeting. The treasurer being absent no report was given. Laura Long and Herman Porter played birthday dues. Miss Long read "Faith Is the Victory" and Mrs. Furniss read, "First President, George Washington, honored with a National Holiday." A lovey carry in supper preceded the meeting, which closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. Fay Jolly of Columbus was the Wednesday luncheon guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clark McCafferty and their Sunday afternoon guests were Mrs. Charles Rivers and daughter Sherri and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Driscoll and daughter Lynette of Columbus.

National Guard Integration Cost Set at $77 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources say a secret report estimates it would cost $77 million to meet a presidential riot commission's recommendation officials are debating National Guard units be substantially increased.

Top military and administration officials are debating whether to ask Congress for funds to initiate what the sources described as a three-year nationwide recruiting effort.

A congressional expert on military programs said the $77 million estimate may be low. "Soldiers are an expensive commodity," he said.

Last Aug. 10, less than two weeks after it was appointed by President Johnson to investigate riots in Newark, Detroit and elsewhere, the Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders reported that only 5,000 Negroes were among the nation's 500,000 guardsmen.

This deficiency, it declared, "must be corrected as soon as possible." The commission did not set a specific goal or a deadline.

Johnson immediately sent the recommendation to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara with the notation: "This is a matter of highest urgency and I know you will give it your chief of staff, on Dec. 1. The list of the panel's findings was discussed at a recent meeting attended by several state adjutant generals. One of those present said $80 million was given as "a round figure" for the cost of substantially increasing the percentage of Negroes in the Guard. This includes, he said, recruitment as well as training and equipping source placed the figure at $77 million.

The estimates include a wide range of items—from the cost of uniforms and pay allowances to advertising programs, officials said.

STATE-ING ITS CASE—Not only is California's San Bernardino County the largest county in the nation, but it also outranks nine states in size. Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island could fit inside county (shaded area) and still have room left over. San Bernardino is also larger than Delaware, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Vermont, Maryland or Hawaii. If it were a state, San Bernardino County would rank 42nd in area, right behind West Virginia. ## Wilmington Wins, WCH Loses in Tourney Action

Washington C. H. became the third South Central Ohio League team to be dumped from tournament play, losing to Buckeye Valley, 79-31, Tuesday at Columbus.

Wilmington remained in the tournaments, along with Miami Trace and Greenfield, defeating Dayton Stivers, 64-52, at Dayton.

Washington was never in the game at Columbus as Buckeye Valley, one of the seeded teams at the Central District Class AA tournament with a 17-1 record, jumped off to an 18-7 first quarter lead.

BY halftime the winners had stretched their lead to 36-17 and were on top 57-22 at the end of three periods.

None of the Washington cagers scored in double figures. Steve Phillips eight points was the best effort, while Valley had Roger Garrison with 18, Barry Zwick with 15 and John Russell with 14.

Over at Dayton, big John Petty, the South Central Ohio League's leading scorer, notched 30 points to pace the Hurricanes to its second victory over Dayton Stivers in less than a week.

The Hurricanes edged out to a 14-11 first quarter lead, ballooned the margin to 34-19 at halftime and coasted to the victory, leading 54-32 at the end of three periods.

Miami Trace and Greenfield are both still in action in the Paint Valley sectional tournament. Trace plays Lancaster tonight.

NEW YORK (AP) — Match play golf, which disappeared from the pro circuit 10 years ago, may make a return, Professional Golf Association President Max Elbin said today.

"A number of proposals have been made," Elbin said, "and are under consideration."

"It could be as early as this fall, perhaps something of a spin-off from our PGA championship, a tournament of champions or something on that order."

If so, it would meet the approval of the touring pros.

"There's no doubt that golf galleries need something more than week-to-week stroke play," said Jack Nicklaus, who received the Gold Tee award for outstanding contributions to the game at the Metropolitan Golf Writers Association dinner Tuesday night.

"I'd like to see it. I'll even go one step further. In addition to a match play title tournament, I think we also should have a national team four-ball championship."

8 Cincinnati Reds Hold Out

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Thirty-six Cincinnati Reds suited up for the first day of full-squad training here Tuesday while eight unsigned players stuck to their salary demands.

Some of the players took practice swings for the first time since October. Workouts under bright Florida sun spanned three hours with batting practice heavily emphasized.

Infielders and outfielders joined pitchers and catchers for the first time Tuesday in spring training.

But absent from the drills were pitchers Jim Maloney and Mel Queen, outfielders Pete Rose and Vada Pinson and infielder Tommy Helms—five of the club's frontliners.

Also unsigned are pitcher Jay Ritchie and infielders Chico Ruiz and Hal McCrae.

Assistant General Manager Phil Seghi, who handles contract negotiations, said he does not plan to talk with any of the eight for another two or three days, and added "This is a period of meditation—for them."

Hayes Only Unanimous NBA Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — Elvin Hayes, 6-foot-8 star of top-ranked Houston, is the only unanimous choice of the 12 National Basketball Association coaches on their annual college All-Star team announced today.

Trailing Hayes were 7-1 Lew Alcindor of UCLA, with 11 first team votes and one second team, and 6-8 Westley Unseld of Louisville, with 10 firsts and two seconds. All three are repeaters from last year's team.

Rounding out the coaches' first team are 6-4 Don May of Dayton and 6-5 Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, the nation's leading scorer and only sophomore on the first unit. Both received five first-team votes.

Alcindor is a junior, the others seniors. Named to the second team were 6-4 senior Larry Miller of North Carolina, 5-10 sophomore Calvin Murphy of Niagara, 6-3 junior Jo Jo White of Kansas, 6-11 sophomore Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure and 6-8 senior Don Smith of Iowa State.

Honorable mention went to Lucius Allen, UCLA; Mike Lewles, Duke; Butch Beard, Louisville; Henry Logan, Western Carolina; Charlie Scott, North Carolina; Sammie Hill, West Texas State; Merv Jackson, Utah; Shaler Hallmon, Utah State; Ron Williams, West Virginia; Tom Boerwinkle, Tennessee; and Harry Hollines, Denver.

Iowa, Kansas State, Texas Lead Cagers

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Any resemblance between the Big Ten, Big Eight and Southwest Conference basketball standings of Tuesday and Wednesday is purely accidental.

The Big Ten, which had a two-way tie, now has Iowa all alone at the top. The Big Eight, which also had a two-way tie, shows Kansas State in the lead but four teams bunched within one game of each other. And Texas, which had been the Southwest leader, slipped into a three-way deadlock with Baylor and Texas Christian.

While those three leagues were trying to determine their representatives in the NCAA tournament, two tourney-bound teams were in action Tuesday night. All Top Ten clubs in the Associated Press Poll were idle. At New York, NCAA-bound St. John's jolted National Invitation Tournament hopeful Holy Cross 83-67 in a sloppily-played game, despite 31 points by the losers, Keith Hochstein.

At South Bend, Ind., Bob Arzen and Bob Whitmore combinced for 63 points and led NIT-bound Notre Dame past Valparaiso 87-75. The 6-foot-5 Arzen scored a season's high 35 points while 6-7 Whitmore had 28 and pushed his two-year total to 1,023.

Three other teams continued their efforts to impress the NIT selection committee. Villanova, with Johnny Jones sinking eight straight shots in the first half and scoring 30 points, edged Toledo 71-69, but almost blew a seven-point lead in the last two minutes in its own field house.

Sophomore Chad Calabria, a 6-1 guard, scored 11 quick points as Iowa took a 14-3 lead over Michigan State and rolled to a 76-58 victory at Iowa City. Calabria finished with 25 points and Sam Williams added 22 as the Hawkeyes took a half-game lead over idle Ohio State and a full game over Purdue, which lost to Michigan 104-94.

A 52.4 per cent shooting mark and Rick Mount's 35 points were not enough for Purdue. The Boilermakers made only six of 12 free throws while Michigan connected on 20 of 31. Rudy Tomjanovich scored 30 points as the Wolverines dedicated their new University Events Arena.

Kansas State took over the Big Eight lead by whipping Missouri 70-63, while Kansas bowed to Nebraska 76-69 and Iowa State was idle. The standings show Kansas State at 8-3, Iowa State 7-3, Nebraska 8-4 and Kansas 7-4.

Steve Honeycutt scored 27 points and 7-1 Nick Pino grabbed 16 rebounds to spark Kansas State past Missouri. The Wildcats are at Iowa State next Monday in a key battle.

Stu Lantz scored 22 points as Nebraska dropped Kansas from its share of the lead. But the big surprise was Bob Grattopp, a 6-4 sophomore, who netted 21 points and hauled down 13 rebounds against the taller Jayhawks.

Rudgers, Rudley Top MAC Players

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dick Rudgers of Bowling Green and John Rudley of Toledo share this week's award as the Mid-American Conference basketball players of the week.

Rudgers was a key player in two games last week that wrapped up the conference title for Bowling Green. Rudley was cited for his defensive play in Toledo's victory over Western Michigan.

Other nominated were Bill Bullock, Kent State; George Stone, Marshall; Fred Foster, Miami, and Gerald McKee Ohio University.

Pair of 9s In the Pot For NBA

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

It's a pair of 9s for the Philadelphia 76ers and the New York Knickerbockers. In the pot are playoff positions and money based on the final National Basketball Association regular-season standings.

Philadelphia drew its nine Tuesday night by drubbing San Francisco 127-107. The Knicks kept their nine by losing 108-102 to St. Louis.

The 9s are the won-lost combinations Philadelphia needs for its third straight Eastern Division title and New York needs to grab third in the East for its highest finish since the 1958-59 season when the Knicks were second.

Any combination of Philadelphia victories and or Boston losses would give the 76ers the championship. In New York's case, the combination involves Baltimore, which is fourth, the final playoff spot.

In the only other NBA game Tuesday night, Los Angeles trounced Cincinnati 117-106.

Hargan Doesn't Get New Pitch

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Pitching Coach Jack Sanford heard what Steve Hargan was thinking about and threw up his hands. "No sir... No he won't," said Sanford. "Not with the good stuff Steve has."

Hargan had said: "I think I need another pitch."

Sanford replied: "I think all Hargan needs is to work every fourth day and he'll prove what a fine pitcher he is."

Danzer Leader In Figure Skating

GENEVA (AP) — Defending champion Emmerich Danzer of Austria, trying to recoup from a shocking failure at the winter Olympics two weeks ago, ruled an odds-on favorite today to win the men's world figure skating championship.

After a thrilling duel Tuesday with Olympic silver medalist Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., the 23-year-old Danzer took a lead of 684 points to Wood's 674.3 after four of the six compulsory figures.

Bruins Eye NHL Playoff

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Boston Bruins, who haven't reached the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs in nine years, have taken another big step toward making it this year.

Skip Krake's goal while the Bruins were shorthanded ignited Boston to a 5-3 victory over the expansion Pittsburgh Penguins Tuesday night, leaving the Bruins with a hefty 11-point lead on Toronto in the battle for the last playoff spot in the East Division.

Pittsburgh, meanwhile, took another step backward in its bid to catch St. Louis for the last playoff position in the West Division. The Penguins are a point out of fourth place, but have played two games more than St. Louis.

Wilmington Wins, WCH Loses in Tourney Action

Washington C. H. became the third South Central Ohio League team to be bumped from tournament play, losing to Buckeye Valley, 79-31, Tuesday at Columbus.

Wilmington remained in the tournaments, along with Miami Trace and Greenfield, defeating Dayton Stivers, 64-52, at Dayton.

Washington was never in the game at Columbus as Buckeye Valley, one of the seeded teams at the Central District Class AA tournament with a 17-1 record, jumped off to an 18-7 first quarter lead.

BY halftime the winners had stretched their lead to 36-17 and were on top 57-22 at the end of three periods.

None of the Washington cagers scored in double figures. Steve Phillips eight points was the best effort, while Valley had Roger Garrison with 18, Barry Zwick with 15 and John Russell with 14.

Over at Dayton, big John Petty, the South Central Ohio League's leading scorer, notched 30 points to pace the Hurricanes to its second victory over Dayton Stivers in less than a week.

Wilmington closed the regular season with a victory over the Dayton squad.

The Hurricanes edges out to a 14-11 first quarter lead, ballooned the margin to 34-19 at half-

Psychology Used in Negotiations

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The psychology of contract negotiations has taken over baseball's spring training camps.

The trick, of course, is for the players to remind the owners how important those hits and shutouts were last season, and for the owners to get off as cheaply as possible for 1968.

Curt Flood and Mickey Mantle headed Tuesday's list of players reaching terms while Cincinnati's Jim Maloney, Vada Pinson and Pete Rose among the dissatisfied, seems to be having the most trouble in the signature derby.

Flood, who hit .335 for the world champion St. Louis Cardinals in 1967, signed for $75,000—a figure he described as "a happy medium" between what he was asking for and what the Cards were offering.

"The price was some place in the middle of what we both put up at first," said Flood.

Price was never a problem for Mantle, the New York Yankees' veteran slugger. He signed his sixth straight $100,000 agreement with a pledge to improve on the .245 batting average and 22 home runs he had last year.

"I think I can hit 30 home runs," said Mantle. "I don't think that's out of the question."

"I can't do any worse than last year," he said.

Phil Seghi, Cincinnati's assistant general manager, said he plans no discussion for two or three days with Maloney, Pinson, Rose, Chico Ruiz, Tommy Helm, Mel Queen and the Reds' other non-signees.

"This is a period of meditation for them," said Seghi.

Clete Boyer has not yet reached terms with Atlanta and when he does, he'll find the Braves' camp a beehive of activity.

"We'll be out on the field from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. if necessary," said new manager Luman Harris. "Whatever it takes, we'll use."

"Nobody will be idle," Harris promised.

The Yankees eliminated two signing problems by placing injured third baseman Charlie Smith on the restricted list and withdrawing John Boccabella's invitation to training camp.

Smith injured a knee in an off-season accident at home, and is not expected to be ready to work until early April. Boccabella, drafted from the Chicago Cubs, did not sign and was ordered to report to the minor league camp at Hollywood, Fla. next month.

Rick Monday, slugging outfielder of the Oakland Athletics, who led the club in homers and runs batted in last season, was rewarded with what the club called a 110 per cent increase over his rookie salary. The figures were not released.

Utility infielder Frank Quilici signed with Minnesota and outfielders Reggie Smith and Jose Tartabull okayed contracts with Boston.

8 Cincinnati Reds Hold Out

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Thirty-six Cincinnati Reds suited up for the first day of full-squad training here Tuesday while eight unsigned players stuck to their salary demands.

Some of the players took practice swings for the first time since October. Workouts under bright Florida sun spanned three hours with batting practice heavily emphasized.

Infielders and outfielders joined pitchers and catchers for the first time Tuesday in spring training.

But absent from the drills were pitchers Jim Maloney and Mel Queen, outfielders Pete Rose and Vada Pinson and infielder Tommy Helms—five of the club's frontliners.

Also unsigned are pitcher Jay Ritchie and infielders Chico Ruiz and Hal McCrae.

Assistant General Manager Phil Seghi, who handles contract negotiations, said he does not plan to talk with any of the eight for another two or three days, and added "This is a period of meditation—for them."

Hayes Only Unanimous NBA Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — Elvin Hayes, 6-foot-8 star of top-ranked Houston, is the only unanimous choice of the 12 National Basketball Association coaches on their annual college All-Star team announced today.

Trailing Hayes were 7-1 Lew Alcindor of UCLA, with 11 first team votes and one second team, and 6-8 Westley Unseld of Louisville, with 10 firsts and two seconds. All three are repeaters from last year's team.

Rounding out the coaches' first team are 6-4 Don May of Dayton and 6-5 Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, the nation's leading scorer and only sophomore on the first unit. Both received five first-team votes.

Alcindor is a junior, the others seniors.

Named to the second team were 6-4 senior Larry Miller of North Carolina, 5-10 sophomore Calvin Murphy of Niagara, 6-3 junior Jo Jo White of Kansas, 6-11 sophomore Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure and 6-8 senior Don Smith of Iowa State.

Honorable mention went to Lucius Allen, UCLA; Mike Lewis, Duke; Butch Beard, Louisville; Henry Logan, Western Carolina; Charlie Scott, North Carolina; Sammie Hill, West Texas State; Merv Jackson, Utah; Shaler Hallimon, Utah State; Ron Williams, West Virginia; Tom Boerwinkle, Tennessee; and Harry Hollins, Denver.

Pair of 9s In the Pot For NBA

It's a pair of 9s for the Philadelphia 76ers and the New York Knickerbockers. In the pot are playoff positions and money based on the final National Basketball Association regular-season standings.

Philadelphia drew its nine Tuesday night by drubbing San Francisco 127-107. The Knicks kept their nine by losing 108-102 to St. Louis.

In the only other NBA game Tuesday night, Los Angeles trounced Cincinnati 117-106.

Joe Frazier Set To Maul Mathis

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — The way Joe Frazier talks, Buster Mathis might be better off going home instead of climbing into the Madison Square Garden ring with the Philadelphia slugger next Monday night.

"He's gonna go—and maybe real early," said the 205-pound Frazier, who meets the 245-pound Mathis for the world heavyweight title, New York and Massachusetts version.

SALLY'S in

Southwest Ohio: Home of Champs

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mid-dletown's dream of an eighth state high school basketball title went up in smoke early. But the southwest sector of the state can truly boast of being the home of champions.
The Mighty Middies, ranked No. 2 in the final Associated Press poll, were sidelined by Greenhills Monday night 72-71 at Oxford.
It marked only the second time a team coached by Paul

Walker had been ousted in the first round of district play.
But lurking in the wings ready and willing to uphold southwest basketball prestige are such powers as Dayton Dunbar, Cincinnati Elder and Hamilton Garfield, among others.
Since 1923, when the state tournaments came into existence, southwest schools have claimed 22 Class AA crowns.
Middletown, of course, has been a generous contributor with seven championships, a mark that could stand for all time.

The central district has produced seven champions while the northeast and east each own six titles.
The Northwest and southeast districts have ascended to the throne only twice. The northwest, experiencing a 20-year drought, hasn't had a winner since Findlay came through in 1948.
Middletown won in 1944, '46, '47, '52, '53, '56 and '57. But the Middies, despite winning two in a row three times, could never match the three-in-a-row feat of Dayton Stivers.

Former Ohio State basketball Coach Floyd Stahl was at the helm when Stivers copped honors in 1928-'29 and 1930. Stivers, which also won in 1924, is runner up to Middletown with four championships.
Hamilton High School, which eventually was split into Hamilton Taft and Garfield, scored in 1937, 1949 and 1954 and Taft won in 1962.
The only other three-time winner is Newark, currently ranked No. 5 in the AP poll. The Wildcats triumphed in 1936, '38 and '43.

Hope for Toledo Bid to the NIT Now Nearly Gone

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Toledo, already beaten out by Bowling Green for the Mid-American Conference basketball title, may have lost a chance for a bid to the National Invitational Tournament Tuesday night.
The Rockets lost 71-69 to Villanova.
That defeat, coupled with Marshall's runaway victory over Old Dominion, 131-91, probably enhances Marshall's chances to go to the NIT.
Marshall, as MAC runner-up last year, was invited to the NIT and finished fourth. Both Toledo and Marshall are 8-3 in the MAC now and have identical over-all records of 16-7.
Villanova, also hoping to play in the NIT, had to choke off a Toledo rally in the closing seconds. John Jones topped Villanova scoring with 30 points and John Rudley led Toledo with 26.
Ohio Northern kept its hot streak going by nipping Earlham, a small college power in

Ohio Northern, which upset Ashland Saturday, stormed from a 52-43 halftime deficit to beat Earlham. Northern got 27 points from Ken Stewart.
Findlay won a share of the Mid-Ohio crown, beating Bluffton 89-83 behind the scoring of Jim Carder and Jim Creps with 22 points each.
Dan Terhune scored 15 points to set a Defiance school scoring record in helping the Yellow Jackets trounce Spring Arbor 100-79. Terhune raised his career total to 1,389, three more than the 1,386 points scored by Ray Etzler in 1959-63.
Joe Nigro scored 24 points, leading Youngstown past Akron 71-68. Roy Crite had 28 for Akron. Don Cooper's 28 points paced Cedarville over Walsh 80-71. Thiel beat Western Reserve 47-45. Alliance whipped Malone 104-80 and John Carroll dumped Allegheny 96-83 in the only other Ohio games.

Southwest Ohio: Home of Champs

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mid-dletown's dream of an eighth state high school basketball title went up in smoke early. But the southwest sector of the state can truly boast of being the home of champions.

The Mighty Middies, ranked No. 2 in the final Associated Press poll, were sidelined by Greenhills Monday night 72-71 at Oxford.

It marked only the second time a team coached by Paul

Walker had been ousted in the first round of district play.

But lurking in the wings ready and willing to uphold southwest basketball prestige are such powers as Dayton Dunbar, Cincinnati Elder and Hamilton Garfield, among others.

Since 1923, when the state tournaments came into existence, southwest schools have claimed 22 Class AA crowns.

Middletown, of course, has been a generous contributor with seven championships, a mark that could stand for all time.

The central district has produced seven kingpins while the northeast and east each own six titles.

The Northwest and southeast districts have ascended to the throne only twice. The northwest, experiencing a 20-year drought, hasn't had a winner since Findlay came through in 1948.

Middletown won in 1944, '46, '47, '52, '53, '56 and '57. But the Middies, despite winning two in a row three times, could never match the three-in-a-row feat of Dayton Stivers.

Former Ohio State basketball Coach Floyd Stahl was at the helm when Stivers copped honors in 1928-'29 and 1930. Stivers, which also won in 1924, is runner up to Middletown with four championships.

Hamilton High School, which eventually was split into Hamilton Taft and Garfield, scored in 1937, 1949 and 1954 and Taft won in 1962.

The only other three-time winner is Newark, currently ranked No. 5 in the AP poll. The Wildcats triumphed in 1936, '38 and '43.

There have been several two-time winners, Springfield High School, now Springfield South and North, earned titles in 1925 and 1950.

Akron North won in 1936 and '39; Dayton Roosevelt in 1934 and 1960; Zanesville in 1926 and 1955; Portsmouth in 1951 and 1961; Dover in 1927 and 1933; Cleveland East Tech in 1958-'59 and Columbus East in 1951 and 1963.

The East Tigers are the state's top-ranked quintet and have the distinction of being the first Columbus school to annex a title.

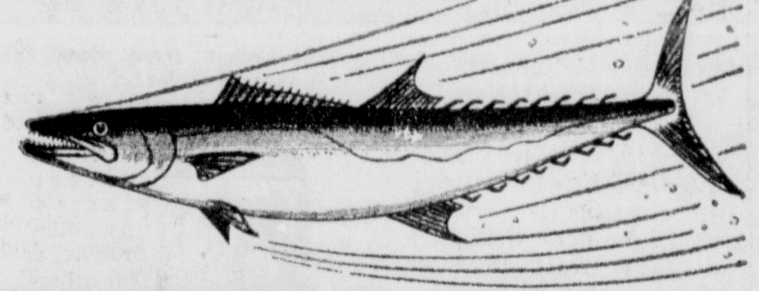

In the last five years, Columbus and Dayton schools have dominated the state picture.

After East won in 1963, Dayton Belmont scored in 1964, Columbus South in 1965, Dayton Chaminate in 1966 and Columbus Linden McKinley a year ago.

No Class A school has ever won three championships but a half dozen have nailed down two titles. They include top-ranked Northwestern of Wayne County; Bellpoint, Waterloo, Lockland Wayne, Dresden and No. 9 New Lebanon Dixie.

Hope for Toledo Bid to the NIT Now Nearly Gone

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toledo, already beaten out by Bowling Green for the Mid-American Conference basketball title, may have lost a chance for a bid to the National Invitational Tournament Tuesday night.

The Rockets lost 71-69 to Villanova.

That defeat, coupled with Marshall's runaway victory over Old Dominion, 131-91, probably enhances Marshall's chances to go to the NIT.

Marshall, as MAC runner-up last year, was invited to the NIT and finished fourth. Both Toledo and Marshall are 8-3 in the MAC now and have identical over-all records of 16-7.

Villanova, also hoping to play in the NIT, had to choke off a Toledo rally in the closing seconds. John Jones topped Villanova scoring with 30 points and John Rudley led Toledo with 26.

Ohio Northern kept its hot streak going by nipping Earlham, a small college power in Indiana, 84-82. It was only the second defeat for Earlham, which had a 19-game winning streak snapped.

Ohio Northern, which upset Ashland Saturday, stormed from a 52-43 halftime deficit to beat Earlham. Northern got 27 points from Ken Stewart.

Findlay won a share of the Mid-Ohio crown, beating Bluffton 89-83 behind the scoring of Jim Carder and Jim Creps with 22 points each.

Dan Terhune scored 15 points to set a Defiance school scoring record in helping the Yellow Jackets trounce Spring Arbor 100-79. Terhune raised his career total to 1,389, three more than the 1,386 points scored by Ray Etzler in 1959-63.

Joe Negro scored 24 points, leading Youngstown past Akron 71-68. Roy Crite had 28 for Akron. Don Cooper's 28 points paced Cedarville over Walsh 80-71. Thiel beat Western Reserve 47-45. Alliance whipped Malone 104-80 and John Carroll dumped Allegheny 96-83 in the only other Ohio games.

Circleville Fire Department Gets $31,700 Pumper

NEW PUMPER — Circleville's new fire truck, ordered last May, was delivered Tuesday. Preparing to take the new piece of firefighting apparatus out for a shakedown cruise, from the left, are Lt. Glen Jones, Ronnie Sowers and Dale Edwards.

Circleville's new fire truck was delivered Tuesday. It was the final purchase made with funds from the one-mile equipment levy which expired last year.

The truck, a $31,735.89 Mack, was ordered last May. A strike by workers at the firm that builds the cab delayed the final delivery by about two months according to R. C. Brown, a representative of the firm. He arrived with the truck yesterday to check it over with Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe.

The truck is powered by a 276 horsepower Mack gasoline engine. It has dual ignition and dual carburation to assure trouble-free starting.

The new truck is equipped with a 500 gallon tank and a pump that has a 1,000 gallon per minute capacity.

THE cab - over model has a canopy extending just beyond the cab to the rear and has space for five men.

It has two electric rewind hose reels and meets all specifications of insurance underwriters. The new truck, when it becomes fully operational, will be the first unit out on fires in the city.

The 1955 Seagraves truck which is presently the first truck to answer a fire call, will be the city's rural truck and the unit to answer a second alarm for city fires.

The 1940 Ford truck will be phased out of operation. Chief Wolfe noted, although he does not yet know what the final disposition of the vehicle will be.

The other truck presently owned by the department is a 1929 Seagraves pumper which will be retained by the department.

THE new pumper is the final purchase made by the city fire department with a one - mill equipment levy which expired this year.

In addition to the Mack pumper, the city has purchased the $50,000 Seagraves aerial ladder truck, a hose dryer, 2,500 feet of hose and a two-way radio system for all trucks with base station in the department.

Brown, who is the representative of a several state area for Mack Trucks, noted yesterday that Circleville is one of the finest equipped one-station departments in the district.

Students Walk Out At Elida

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Some 700 pupils at nearby Elida High School cut their final class of the day Tuesday, protesting a school board decision not to rehire two administrators and the basketball coach.

The board recently announced that the contracts of Supt. Roland Swank, Principal Howard Leis and basketball coach Richard Baldwin would not be renewed at the end of the school year.

Charles Friedman, school board president, said the action was taken for numerous reasons. He refused to elaborate Tuesday, saying he did "not want to embarrass them."

Elida has 1,000 pupils, and George Gretzway, president of the Elida Teachers Association, said classes would be held today "with or without the students" who walked out Tuesday.

Rule Woman's Death Due to Fumes

CINCINNATI (AP)—Roberta J. Parks, whose body was found Tuesday in a parked car in Norwood's Monument Park, died from carbon monoxide poisoning, the Hamilton County coroner ruled.

James Osborne, 27, who also was in the auto, told police that Mrs. Parks, 29, of the Norwood section of Cincinnati, had become ill.

Area Chamber Lists Heating Precautions

The Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Health and Safety Committee, Dr. William A. Myers, Chairman, called to the public's attention to the do's and don'ts of handling heating equipment. They are as follows.

Don't use heating equipment without a vent pipe. Don't put a damper in the vent pipe. Don't run the vent pipe downhill from the heating equipment to the chimney. Don't guess that the fuel is clean. If heating equipment is not working right, remove the cleanout or the vent pipe, clean, and replace.

Don't permit the vent pipe to fit loosely at the chimney, or push pipe too far into the chimney. Don't try to get more heat out of your heating equipment than it is built to produce. If rooms don't heat properly, a larger heater may be needed. Don't seal windows and doors with tape and rags. Heating equipment needs fresh air to burn properly without creating fumes.

Don't use the cook stove for room heating. Don't waste a second in getting everybody out of the house if fumes are smelled. Don't put off calling a repair man or other qualified person if heating equipment is not working right. Don't fail to check each point and make corrections immediately.

Do buy and use only approved heating equipment. Do see that heating equipment is vented to a good chimney. Do make sure that the chimney is clean. Blow smoke into the chimney opening to see if it is drawing well.

Do install the vent pipe so that it goes up hill from the heating equipment to the chimney.

Do use a safety thimble to keep the vent pipe from going too far into the chimney. Seal thimble into chimney with cement. Do be sure the chimney has a cleanout opening under the vent pipe and see that the opening is covered with a cap. Do allow some outside fresh air into the space where the heating equipment is located. Do have a qualified heating man clean and adjust heating equipment. This may cost a few dollars, but it will save money in lower fuel bills and may save a life.

Red Parties Hit Head-On At Meeting

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The Soviet Union and Romania have clashed head-on at the Budapest meeting of 66 Communist parties but a chorus of other parties supports the Kremlin's plan for a world Communist conference next November or December.

It's official aim of the world conference is to restore unity to the fractured Communist movement, but the Chinese Communist party and others oppose the Soviet aims. Most of these parties stayed away from the Budapest meeting, which was called to organize the world conference.

A communique issued today said Romania, which has sought to avoid a showdown within the Red world movement, voiced strong opposition to Soviet plans at a closed session Tuesday.

But on the basis of other positions taken Tuesday and the pattern of support from Soviet-line parties, the prospect was for this meeting to appoint an all-party committee that would arrange a late autumn conference in Moscow.

Romney Says Rocky Stand On Draft Not Surprising

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michigan Gov. George Romney says New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's statement that he'd accept a Republican presidential draft is not so surprising.

"Any red - blooded American would take this position," Romney said.

But Romney did not comment on speculation in the New Hampshire press that Rockefeller's statement over the weekend has weakened his backing of Romney for the GOP presidential nomination.

Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, also in Boston, said meanwhile he expects the impact of recent events in Vietnam to swing more Americans against the war.

McCarthy said that swing could move "across the line" in the next two or three months—before the Democratic National Convention at which he hopes to get the presidential nomination.

In other political developments:

—Negro leader Charles Evers led the voting over six white candidates and won a runoff spot against Charles Griffin for the Mississippi congressional seat vacated by Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss. Said Evers, brother of slain civil rights leader Medgar Evers: "We're going to win this election."

—Illinois Democrats launched their 1968 campaign with neither Adlai E. Stevenson III nor federal anti-poverty chief Sargent Shriver on the ticket. Stevenson, had asked a candidate-choosing subcommittee headed by Chicago Mayor Richard Daley for endorsement to either the governor or senate race. Shriver expressed no interest to the subcommittee in either and there is speculation he may be in line for appointment as U.S. Ambassador to France.

—The Oregon Citizens for Reagan Committee has nearly completed its arrangements for the Oregon presidential primary, says chairman Robert H. Hazen, But California Gov. Ronald Reagan denies he's in the running and Hazen concedes: "It's hard to operate without a candidate."

No Labor Split Seen for Now

DETROIT (AP) — Although Walter P. Reuther has called a special meeting to "discuss relations with the AFL-CIO," speculation within his United Auto Workers union is that nothing will be done immediately to break with the labor federation.

Reuther has summoned the UAW's international executive board to a meeting Friday and Saturday on the subject of the UAW's ties with the AFL-CIO.

More than a year ago Reuther raised the threat of withdrawing his 1.5-million members from the AFL-CIO, insisting the federation had become "undemocratic" and was "vegetating" under leadership of George Meany, 73.

Seek To Limit LBJ's Warmaking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee reportedly plans no further hearings on the disputed Gulf of Tonkin incidents.

It will push instead, a committee source says, for asserting a congressional iron hand over U.S. military commitments.

Congress, with Fulbright leading the way, passed a resolution empowering the President "to take all necessary measures" to prevent further aggression after the two destroyers reported they were attacked in the gulf by North Vietnamese boats.

President Johnson and top aides have frequently cited the 1964 resolution as authority for subsequently increasing U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Pained at this interpretation, the Foreign Relations Committee last November passed a national commitments resolution. Fulbright will take it to the Senate floor next month.

Joint resolutions such as those pertaining to Formosa, the Middle East and the Gulf of Tonkin are a proper method of granting authority, provided that they are precise as to what is to be done and for what period of time, and provided that they do in fact grant authority and not merely express approval of undefined action to be taken by the President, the resolution says.

It would require that Congress, in considering resolutions "involving the use or possible use of the armed forces": —Debate the proposal at sufficient length to establish a legislative record showing the intent of Congress;

—Use the words "authorize" or "empower" to leave no doubt that Congress alone has the constitutional right to authorize initiation of war and that, in granting the President authority to use the armed forces, Congress is granting power that he would not otherwise have;

—State in the resolution as explicitly as possible the kind of military action that is being authorized;

—Put a time limit on the resolution, thereby assuring Congress the opportunity to review its decision and extend or terminate the President's authority to use military force.

Siamese Twins Face Operation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Surgeons will try to separate week-old Siamese twin girls joined at the abdomen by a tubular section of skin 20 inches in circumference.

Dr. Darleen Powars, acting as liaison between pediatric and surgical teams, said Tuesday the operation will be put off about one month until the infants gain several pounds over their present combined weight of 11 pounds, 7 ounces.

Circleville Fire Department Gets $31,700 Pumper

NEW PUMPER — Circleville's new fire truck, ordered last May, was delivered Tuesday. Preparing to take the new piece of firefighting apparatus out for a shakedown cruise, from the left, are Lt. Glen Jones, Ronnie Sowers and Dale Edwards.

Circleville's new fire truck was delivered Tuesday. It was the final purchase made with funds from the one-mile equipment levy which expired last year.

The truck, a $31,735.89 Mack, was ordered last May. A strike by workers at the firm that builds the cab delayed the final delivery by about two months according to R. C. Brown, a representative of the firm. He arrived with the truck yesterday to check it over with Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe.

The truck is powered by a 276 horsepower Mack gasoline engine. It has dual ignition and dual carburation to assure trouble-free starting.

The new truck is equipped with a 500 gallon tank and a pump that has a 1,000 gallon per minute capacity.

***
The cab - over model has a canopy extending just beyond the cab to the rear and has space for five men.

It has two electric rewind hose reels and meets all specifications of insurance underwriters. The new truck, when it becomes fully operational, will be the first unit out on fires in the city.

The 1955 Seagraves truck which is presently the first truck to answer a fire call, will be the city's rural truck and the unit to answer a second alarm for city fires.

The 1940 Ford truck will be phased out of operation, Chief Wolfe noted, although he does not yet know what the final disposition of the vehicle will be. The other truck presently owned by the department is a 1929 Seagraves pumper which will be retained by the department.

The new pumper is the final purchase made by the city fire department with a one - mill equipment levy which expired this year.

In addition to the Mack pumper, the city has purchased the $50,000 Seagraves aerial ladder truck, a hose dryer, 2,500 feet of hose and a two-way radio system for all trucks with base station in the department.

Brown, who is the representative of a several state area for Mack Trucks, noted yesterday that Circleville is one of the finest equipped one-station departments in the district.

Students Walk Out At Elida

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Some 700 pupils at nearby Elida High School cut their final class of the day Tuesday, protesting a school board decision not to re-hire two administrators and the basketball coach.

The board recently announced that the contracts of Supt. Roland Swank, Principal Howard Leis and basketball coach Richard Baldwin would not be renewed at the end of the school year.

Charles Friedman, school board president, said the action was taken for numerous reasons. He refused to elaborate Tuesday, saying he did "not want to embarrass them."

Elida has 1,000 pupils, and George Gretway, president of the Elida Teachers Association, said classes would be held today "with or without the students" who walked out Tuesday.

Rule Woman's Death Due to Fumes

CINCINNATI (AP)—Robert J. Parks, whose body was found Tuesday in a parked car in Norwood's Monument Park, died from carbon monoxide poisoning, the Hamilton County coroner ruled.

James Osborne, 27, who also was in the auto, told police that Mrs. Parks, 29, of the Norwood section of Cincinnati, had become ill.

Area Chamber Lists Heating Precautions

The Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Health and Safety Committee, Dr. William A. Myers, Chairman, called to the public's attention to the do's and don'ts of handling heating equipment. They are as follows.

Don't use heating equipment without a vent pipe. Don't put a damper in the vent pipe. Don't run the vent pipe downhill from the heating equipment to the chimney. Don't guess that the fuel is clean. If heating equipment is not working right, remove the cleanout or the vent pipe, clean, and replace.

Don't permit the vent pipe to fit loosely at the chimney, or push pipe too far into the chimney. Don't try to get more heat out of your heating equipment than it is built to produce. If rooms don't heat properly, a larger heater may be needed. Don't seal windows and doors with tape and rags. Heating equipment needs fresh air to burn properly without creating fumes.

Don't use the cook stove for room heating. Don't waste a second in getting everybody out of the house if fumes are smelled. Don't put off calling a repair man or other qualified person if heating equipment is not working right. Don't fail to check each point and make corrections immediately.

Do buy and use only approved heating equipment. Do see that heating equipment is vented to a good chimney. Do make sure that the chimney is clean. Blow smoke into the chimney opening to see if it is drawing well.

Do install the vent pipe so that it goes up hill from the heating equipment to the chimney.

Do use a safety thimble to keep the vent pipe from going too far into the chimney. Seal thimble into chimney with cement. Do be sure the chimney has a cleanout opening under the vent pipe and see that the opening is covered with a cap. Do allow some outside fresh air into the space where the heating equipment is located. Do have a qualified heating man clean and adjust heating equipment. This may cost a few dollars, but it will save money in lower fuel bills and may save a life.

Red Parties Hit Head-On At Meeting

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The Soviet Union and Romania have clashed head-on at the Budapest meeting of 66 Communist parties but a chorus of other parties supports the Kremlin's plan for a world Communist conference next November or December.

It's official aim of the world conference is to restore unity to the fractured Communist movement, but the Chinese Communist party and others oppose the Soviet aims. Most of these parties stayed away from the Budapest meeting, which was called to organize the world conference.

A communique issued today said Romania, which has sought to avoid a showdown within the Red world movement, voiced strong opposition to Soviet plans at a closed session Tuesday.

But on the basis of other positions taken Tuesday and the pattern of support from Soviet-line parties, the prospect was for this meeting to appoint an all-party committee that would arrange a late autumn conference in Moscow.

Romney Says Rocky Stand On Draft Not Surprising

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michigan Gov. George Romney says New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's statement that he'd accept a Republican presidential draft is not so surprising.

"Any red - blooded American

would take this position," Romney said.

But Romney did not comment on speculation in the New Hampshire press that Rockefeller's statement over the weekend has weakened his backing of Romney for the GOP presidential nomination.

Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, also in Boston, said meanwhile he expects the impact of recent events in Vietnam to swing more Americans against the war.

McCarthy said that swing could move "across the line" in the next two or three months—before the Democratic National Convention at which he hopes to get the presidential nomination.

In other political developments:

—Negro leader Charles Evers led the voting over six white candidates and won a runoff spot against Charles Griffin for the Mississippi congressional seat vacated by Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss. Said Evers, brother of slain civil rights leader Medgar Evers: "We're going to win this election."

—Illinois Democrats launched their 1968 campaign with neither Adlai E. Stevenson III nor federal antipoverty chief Sargent Shriver on the ticket. Stevenson, had asked a candidate-choosing subcommittee headed by Chicago Mayor Richard Daley for endorsement to either the governor or senate race. Shriver expressed no interest to the subcommittee in either and there is speculation he may be in line for appointment as U.S. Ambassador to France.

—The Oregon Citizens for Reagan Committee has nearly completed its arrangements for the Oregon presidential primary, says chairman Robert H. Hazen. But California Gov. Ronald Reagan denies he's in the running and Hazen concedes: "It's hard to operate without a candidate."

Seek To Limit LBJ's Warmaking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee reportedly plans no further hearings on the disputed Gulf of Tonkin incidents.

It will push instead, a committee source says, for asserting a congressional iron hand over U.S. military commitments.

Congress, with Fulbright leading the way, passed a resolution empowering the President "to take all necessary measures" to prevent further aggression after the two destroyers reported they were attacked in the gulf by North Vietnamese boats.

President Johnson and top aides have frequently cited the 1964 resolution as authority for subsequently increasing U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Pained at this interpretation, the Foreign Relations Committee last November passed a national commitments resolution. Fulbright will take it to the Senate floor next month.

Joint resolutions such as those pertaining to Formosa, the Middle East and the Gulf of Tonkin are a proper method of granting authority, provided that they are precise as to what is to be done and for what period of time, and provided that they do in fact grant authority and not merely express approval of undefined action to be taken by the President, the resolution says.

It would require that Congress, in considering resolutions "involving the use or possible use of the armed forces":

—Debate the proposal at sufficient length to establish a legislative record showing the intent of Congress;

—Use the words "authorize" or "empower" to leave no doubt that Congress alone has the constitutional right to authorize initiation of war and that, in granting the President authority to use the armed forces, Congress is granting power that he would not otherwise have;

—State in the resolution as explicitly as possible the kind of military action that is being authorized;

—Put a time limit on the resolution, thereby assuring Congress the opportunity to review its decision and extend or terminate the President's authority to use military force.
